WIDOW TELLS OF TRAGEDY

Mrs. W. L. Newport Describes Accident at Swin-ney Park Bridge.

TWO DEAD; THIRD
MAY NOT SURVIVE

Father With Two Children
in Arms Goes to Death
on Railroad Bridge.

With tears streaming down her cheeks and with a voice choking with terrific sobbing, Mrs. William L. Newport at St. Joseph's hospital Friday morning managed to give the first authentic account of the tragedy of Thursday evening when her husband and son, Lawrence, aged nine, were instantly killed while crossing the Pennsylvania railroad bridge over the St. Mary's river at Swinney park.

Coroner Scouts Theory of Jump.
Coroner Kruse, after an examination of the bodies of Newport and his son, scouted the theory advanced in some quarters that the three were not struck by a train, but leaped from the bridge to avoid it and met fatal injuries in the fall of twenty-nine feet to the rocks at the river's edge below.

"The injuries clearly indicate that they were struck by a train," said Coroner Kruse, and a similar opinion was voiced by Dr. Garrette VanSweringen.

NOBODY ASKED ABOUT HOCKIN

Ironworkers Ignore Comrade as They Go Back to Prison Cells.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 26.—The twelve iron workers convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy" cases, who arrived here late last night to begin serving their sentences, were put through the routine process of "dressing up" at the United States penitentiary today.

When the men came from the ward where they spent the night, having arrived too late to be assigned to cells, each was given a bath, a shave, a new suit of prison clothes and new prison shoes and their prison life, which began New Year's day a year ago, but was interrupted by their release on bond, started anew.

With the arrival of Eugene A. Clancy, of San Francisco, and Frank J. Higgins, of Boston, the men will take up their old places on the work of constructing cell houses.

While several of the newcomers made inquiries about their comrades who never were released on bond and who had remained in the prison serving their sentences, no information was asked about Herbert S. Hockin, of Detroit, who is locked up as one of the causes of the enforced imprisonment of the labor leaders. The iron workers declared Hockin, by giving information to the government, aided in their conviction.

Hockin, who is acting as a guard at one of the vehicle entrances of the prison, likewise made no inquiries about his former associates.

MUCH COMMENT ON STAND BY WILSON

Firm Utterance on Anti-Trust Program Draws
Attention.

Washington, June 26.—President Wilson's emphatic declaration of the administration's intention to go straight ahead with its anti-trust program and place these measures on the statute books of the country with the prediction of unparalleled prosperity following attracted widespread attention here today. In congressional circles especially the president's utterances were read with keen interest and occasioned general comment.

While the president's speech was addressed to members of the Virginia Press association, it was meant for the entire nation. It was regarded as perhaps the most important message the president has given to the business world and as his final answer to those who oppose the enactment of the anti-trust program at the present session of congress.

The president spoke in no uncertain terms and made it clear that he was determined to push to a conclusion the trust program. He reviewed the efforts of the administration to carry out other features of his program—the tariff and the currency law—which he said were attended by lack of business disturbance.
When, however, those measures finally became law the feeling of uncertainty was relieved.

60 GO TO LIMA TO ACT AS AN ESCORT

Grand Reception in Store for Bishop Alerding This Evening.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Herman J. Alerding will be honored with a notable reception when he reaches the city this evening on his return from his second ad limina visit to Rome. From the interurban station an immense procession will march, four abreast, east on Main street to Columbia, east on Columbia to Calhoun and south on Calhoun to Library hall, where the formal exercises of the evening will be held.

Bishop Alerding is due in Fort Wayne over the Ohio Electric line at 7:45 o'clock. Some sixty members of the Catholic clergy and laity, representing every congregation of that faith in the city, left at noon today in a special car for Lima to meet the bishop on his arrival from New York, and to act as an escort to this city. It is expected that more than 2,000 members of the Catholic church, besides the children from the parochial schools, will be in the line of march this evening.

GRAND JURY TO HEAR EVIDENCE

Chicago Contractors Will Accuse Union Agents of Blackmail.

Chicago, June 26.—Representatives of the building contractors of Chicago were directed by the district attorney to appear before the federal grand jury with whatever evidence they had that contractors had been systematically blackmailed by agents of the labor unions.
John L. McLaughlin, state representative, was expected to be the principal witness on behalf of the contractors.

Without accusing the labor unions, which they say have been defrauded and used as tools by dishonest business agents, the contractors declare that extortion in sums from $500 to $100,000 has played a part in every large construction job in this city in recent years.

The demand for federal aid was precipitated by the shooting Wednesday of George Hammond, a union business agent, by Patrick Dignam, a contractor.

Dignam surrendered yesterday. He told the police he had been lounded by Hammond and had killed him in a rage.

Labor leaders declare today that the charge, brought by McLaughlin and others were fraudulent. It was a practice of certain contractors, they said, to bribe union agents to tie up other contractors in strikes.

THEY PROPOSE TO KEEP ON FIGHTING

Rebels to Carry Military
Campaign to Finish in Any Event.

Washington, June 26.—The constitutionalists of Mexico are determined to carry their military campaign to a conclusion regardless of participation in informal mediation conferences desired by the United States.

Their plan was indicated here today upon the arrival of Alfredo Breceda, private secretary of General Carranza, first chief of the constitutionalists, who came to confer with Carranza's Washington agents.

Confirmation of the military plans of the revolutionists it was learned that General Villa plans to attack San Luis Potosi next week and later to fight the federals in their last stand at Queretaro.

WANTED A FUSS MADE OVER HER

South Bend Girl Envises the Publicity Attracted by Mrs. Anthony.

South Bend, Ind., June 26.—A desire to have the newspapers "make a fuss over her like they do over Mrs. Charles H. Anthony, of Muncie," she of the diamond heels and elaborate wardrobe, was given by a fourteen-year-old girl today as her reason for disappearing from her home here. She decided she was tired of her escapades and made her presence known in Elkhart, Ind.

The girl, whose name the police withheld, said she coached her playmates to tell stories of her elopement with several different men as an aid to her scheme to get "some publicity." These conflicting stories caused the police to become suspicious and to question her.

CRACKSMEN AT AVILLA FLEE

Take Flight When Explosions in Postoffice Awaken Entire Town.

THREE ARRESTS
AT WATERLOO
Men Get $200 in Stamps But Fail to Reach the Cash
Vault.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Avilla, Ind., June 26.—A gang of cracksmen, supposed to be from five to eight in number, took hurried flight from this place early today when the third explosion of nitro-glycerine which they had used in an attempt to blow the safe in the postoffice here, awakened the entire town and brought scores of people hurrying into the street.

About $200 in postage stamps was secured, but the effort to break the cash vault in the safe was ineffectual. Later three suspects were captured at Waterloo as they were about to board an eastbound freight train. They were lodged in the Auburn jail preparatory to being taken to Fort Wayne for arraignment.

Three Explosions.
Entrance to the postoffice was gained by means of a key which unlocked the door of the building. Three charges of nitro-glycerine were used, and while all were heard by residents of the town, it was not until after the third charge that anybody ventured out. The robbers fled, afoot, southward along the interurban railroad track, where books of stamps which they had dropped, were found later in the day. The postoffice safe and building were badly wrecked.
It was about 1:30 o'clock that the robbery occurred, and telephone operators promptly gave the alarm to all the police.

JAPAN GROWING EMPHATIC AGAIN

Demands Relief from Alien
Land Ownership Law of California.

Washington, June 26.—Japan again is demanding in emphatic and uncompromising terms, relief for her subjects from what are called "invidiously discriminatory" effects of the California alien land ownership law. This was revealed today in connection with the simultaneous publication in Washington and Tokio of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and the Japanese government, extending over a period of more than a year.

The last Japanese communication, dated June 10 last, re-opening the negotiations and asking for an answer to the note handed Secretary Bryan, August 26, 1913, by Viscount Chinda, the ambassador here, were not made public. The reply did not reach Tokio in time for publication there with the rest of the correspondence, so it was agreed that it should be given out later.

The note of August 26 concluded:
"The imperial government claims for them (its subjects) fair and equal treatment and are unable either to acquiesce

WANTED GOOD BOAT TO BE USED FOR DROWNING.

Mishawaka, Ind., June 26.—
Have you a good boat to be used for a drowning?" inquired William Kline, 24, when he rented a boat to take Miss Lela Hathaway, 23, for a boat ride on the St. Joseph river here last night. They decided one of the boats would do and started off, joking about their life insurance. That was the last heard of the river and the upturned boat was found. The bodies were recovered. How the robbery occurred is not known.

FRAUD CHARGED AT TERRE HAUTE

Organization of Life Assurance Concern Attacked
in Report.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 26.—Charging that the organization of the Great Western Life Assurance Company of Terre Haute had been promoted by fraud, that $31,000 had been paid to one D. P.
Roberts as promoter, and that $9,000 of the assets of the company disappeared altogether, the Citizens' Trust company as receiver filed a report in the circuit court today, giving a list of assets that had been turned over to it, which include a number of notes given for stock by local persons. Objection to the approval of the report was made before attorneys who represented claims that had not been approved by the receiver, and final action was postponed until the September term of court.

ROBERTS HELD UNDER BOND.

Charged With False Pretense in Indianapolis Case.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26.—Daniel P.
Roberts, promoter of the Great Western Life Assurance company, the receivers for which made a report in Terre Haute today, is held under $2,000 bond in this city on an indictment which charges he obtained a check from Dr. Frank T.
Dowd under false pretenses. Roberts sold Dr. Dowd $325 worth of stock in the Great Western company, for which Dr. Dowd gave a check. Dr. Dowd alleges that the stock is worthless, although he says Roberts represented to him that it would become of great value.

Roberts was arrested about two years ago on a charge of grand larceny growing out of the same transaction. He was convicted in the criminal court and appealed to the supreme court, which recently reversed the lower court on the ground that Roberts was not the proper
one. The grand jury then made another investigation and returned the indictment, which resulted in Roberts' arrest here.

SAYS LORIMER DID NOT KNOW

Anything About the Payment Notes for $40,000
in His Bank.

FORMER SENATOR
IN EXPLANATION

Man Who Voted for Lorimer
to Retain Seat Now Comes Forward.

Frankfort, Ky., June 26.—Former United States Senator Thomas S. Pay-nter, of Kentucky, has issued a statement explaining how his notes, aggregating $40,000, found their way into the La-Salle street bank, of Chicago, controlled by William Lorimer and C. B. Munday, and which item, it was reported, was being investigated by the federal authorities in connection with the inquiry into that institution.

Mr. Paynter, as senator, was a member of the first senatorial committee that investigated Lorimer's election to the senate and he voted in favor of Lorimer's retaining his seat.

"After my connection with the Lorimer committee had ceased," said Mr.
Paynter, "I needed $40,000 to complete a business transaction as I supposed for a few days. Mr. C. B. Munday told me he could take my four notes for $10,000 each and use them in Illinois banks—banks in which Lorimer had no interest. Mr. Lorimer knew nothing whatever about the transaction. My deal was postponed and I was unable to take care of the demand notes and it seems that Mr. Munday took care of them through the LaSalle street bank.
However, every dollar of the notes has been paid, excepting $2,676.46, which will be paid on demand."

SHAKY THREE YEARS AGO.

Chicago, June 26.—The LaSalle Street bank, which was the center of the Lorimer case, was shaky three years ago.

SALEM LOSS $10,000,000

Fire Lays Waste Large Section of Historic Massachusetts City.

MORE THAN 1,000
BUILDINGS BURN

Ten Thousand Made Homeless and Relief Work is Under Way.

Salem, Mass., June 26.—The conflagration which laid waste more than a thousand buildings in the historic city of Salem, was burning itself out today in the leveled ruins.

City officials after making a careful compilation of values today figured the total loss at $10,000,000. The burned district followed the lines of a rough semi-circle, three miles in length and varying in width from half a mile to a mile and a half.

Although many persons were injured, only one life was lost. The charred body of a woman, thought to be a Mrs.
Cunningham, was found in the ruins of a tenement building on Lafayette street.

Ten Thousand Homeless.

At least ten thousand persons, a fourth of the city's population, were made homeless. Thousands passed last night in the open. Many hundreds were sheltered in schools, churches and public buildings in this city and Beverly.

Before the fire had been fairly checked relief measures and plans for rebuilding were under way. Governor Walsh,

ATTACK ANOTHER CLAFLIN CONCERN

Goods Company Begin
an Action.

New York, June 26.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed here today against the Defender Dry Goods company of this city, makers of underwear, a subsidiary of the H. B. Claflin company, which failed yesterday. Receivers in equity proceedings were appointed at the time of the Claflin failure, but it was contended that the company was solvent. Creditors now seek to have it adjudged bankrupt. Counsel for the Claflin interests, it is understood, will oppose the petition.

Members of the noteholders' protective committee appointed yesterday to safeguard the interests of banks having some $30,000,000 of Claflin paper, went into session today at the National Bank of Commerce whose president, J.
S. Alexander, is chairman of the committee.

A. C. Drew, secretary of the merchandise creditors' committee, estimated today that merchandise creditors have claims of about $2,000,000.

With assurances of co-operation from the leading dry goods firms, jobbing and commission houses and the organization of merchandise creditors and the holders of the firm's paper, John Claflin today began the task of re-organization of the H. B. Claflin company. The impression prevails today in financial circles that the firm will eventually pay 100 cents on the dollar, if creditors allow sufficient time for the company to realize on its assets.

The liabilities of the company are placed at $34,000,000, principally in the form of commercial paper; the assets are placed at $44,000,000 and in addition the personal fortune of John Claflin of $10,000,000 has been pledged by him.

Late Flashes from The Sentinel Wires

Batavia.—Many people were killed or injured today in a violent earthquake which caused widespread damage in southern Sumatra.

Washington.—Private dispatches received at the Pan-American union today reported the death of P. Ezequiel Rojas, minister from Venezuela, at Atlantic City, N. J. He was 70 years of age.

Paris.—Both Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, and Frank Moran, challenger for the title, finished training today and each of them declared himself in the best possible condition for their contest tomorrow night.

Terre Haute.—The Root Dry Goods company, a $100,000 corporation of this city and a member of the H. B. Claflin company chain, went into the hands of a receiver. The store will continue in business.

Washington.—Governor Stewart, of Montana, today asked that federal troops be transferred from Fort Van Cleave, near Great Falls, in order to be available for duty in Montana.

Light on the Light Plant

Mayor Hosey has received a communication from parties at Norwalk, Ohio, inquiring "why the Fort Wayne municipal lighting plant is a failure." The mayor will shed a little light upon the matter by showing a few facts to prove the institution to be a great success.

who assisted in caring for the injured girl.

From the first it was believed that Newport and his two children were struck by Pennsylvania train No. 2, eastbound, while his wife and the other little one in a baby cab awaited the father's return to escort them across the bridge. Engineer Grant Rhodes, whose engine was drawing the train, says, however, that he does not believe he struck the unfortunate trio. No bloodstains were found either upon the bridge or the locomotive.

Mrs. Newport's Story.
Mrs. Newport was called to the hospital by a message from physicians telling her that her daughter, Hazel, aged six, who was also knocked from the bridge, sustaining a fractured skull, had regained consciousness and was asking for her. The little girl did not know at this time that her father and brother were dead.

Holding her two-year-old baby closely to her breast, the grief-stricken woman, while nearly prostrated by the magnitude of her great loss, sobbed the story of the accident while awaiting to be admitted to her daughter's room.

"I don't think Will knew how dangerous the bridge was," she said. "We got to the end of the bridge and it was very dark. He asked me if I could walk across on the ties and I told him I didn't know. He then started across by himself to see if it was safe and then came back and got the two children. I and the baby in the cab, waited for him to return and get us, after he reached the other side. I don't think they had reached the center of the bridge when I saw the train coming and then I don't know what happened until I was placed in an automobile and taken to a hospital.

Mrs. Newport was called to the hospital by a message from physicians telling her that her daughter, Hazel, aged six, who was also knocked from the bridge, sustaining a fractured skull,

"They say I screamed out and called to Will and the babies, but I was so excited that I am unable to remember what I did. I did not know they had been killed until I got to the hospital. The doctor asked me if I objected to letting them operate on Hazel and I replied, 'What does daddy think about it?' Then they told me that Will and my baby boy had been killed."

Were Returning Home.
The accident happened at the close of a happy family trip to Swinney park. Mr. and Mrs. Newport with their three children had left their home, corner of Freeman and Taylor streets, early in the evening and they were returning to their home when the tragedy occurred. Mr. Newport was employed at the American Steel Dredge company's plant, and in anticipation of an outing at the park, Mrs. Newport prepared an early supper and after the children had been dressed the family left home.

Father's Body Mutilated.
With his side caved in, a deep gash across his chest and a bad laceration in the neighborhood of the groin, Mr. Newport's lifeless body was fished from the river on the south side of the bridge. The son's back was broken, and it is believed that he was instantly killed. His body was found near that of the father, and was recovered from the water with grapple hooks. He was taken in the city ambulance to Hope hospital and in an effort to revive him the pulmotor was used, but all efforts of the physicians and hospital attendants to bring back life were fruitless, and the body was taken to the Klaehn & Melching morgue. The body of the father was taken to the Ulmer morgue.

The body of the little girl was found near the edge of the water and it is believed that her fractured skull was sustained not by being hit by the train, but in hitting the river bed. She was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital and in an effort to save her life an operation was performed by Dr. C. B. Stemen, Dr. Morgan and Dr. Garrett Van Sweringen. A portion of her skull was removed and it is said that she has a fair chance to recover.

Although suffering a nervous breakdown from the shock of the accident, the mother remained at the hospital in her daughter's room during the greater portion of the night and early Friday morning she was taken to the home of William Underhill, 1003 Phillips street, where two brothers of her husband, George and Leonard Newport, make their home. After obtaining a little rest during the early part of the morning, Mrs. Newport was told that her daughter had regained consciousness and she hurried back to the hospital.

The bereaved wife and mother declared while at the hospital that she was so shocked by the tragedy that she could scarcely believe the doctors when told that she had lost her husband and son. Even Friday morning she occasionally sobbed out to ask if it was really true and in her excited condition she could hardly realize the terribleness of her loss.

With her husband and children she had presided over a happy and fairly prosperous home. Today she is a widow with only a two-year-old infant to comfort her and she can scarcely hold up under her sudden sorrow, while the strain on her nerves is increased by the seriousness of the daughter's condition.

Police Were Called.
Immediately after the accident a call to police headquarters brought a squad of patrolmen and Detective Walter Immel to the scene of the tragedy and later Captain Kelly and Officers Eisenhut, Brown, Andrews and Fry arrived with firemen from No. 1 engine house. The bodies were located by Patrolman Eisenhut and Lieutenant Walda. The little boy's hat was found later by Jacob Miller, of 2003 Ontario street, and it with Mr. Newport's watch, pocketbook and clothing were turned over to Coroner E. H. Kruse.

It was found that Mr. Newport's watch had stopped at 9 o'clock, the exact time of the accident. The crystal was broken, and in the front of the case was found a photograph of the little boy who was killed.

Train Running Fast.
The train, known as No. 2, was east-bound and was running on time when it entered the bridge. It is said that it was running at a rate of at least thirty-five miles an hour.

This bridge, which is in two sections, has been the scene of many accidents, and Henry C. Stoll, head of the Pennsylvania police department, has repeatedly warned pedestrians from crossing the structure, especially at night, when the accident hazard is at its greatest. Five years ago two small children playing on the bridge were knocked into the river and instantly killed.

Here Four Years.
Mr. and Mrs. Newport were former residents of Logansport and came to Fort Wayne from that city four years ago last January with Mr. Newport's brothers. Mr. Newport had been with the American Steel Dredge company practically ever since coming to the city. He was a member of the American Insurance Union and his brother states that each member of the family carried life insurance. For the present the widow and her baby will reside at the Underhill home on Phillips street.

Engineer Rhodes' Version.
Engineer Grant Rhodes, who was in charge of the locomotive of the fast train, does not believe that his engine hit the unfortunate victims of the bridge accident.

"For several nights past," said he, "we have run into great swarms of insects, and they have been especially numerous in the lowland region west of Fort Wayne. Last night, as usual, we ran through clouds of these bugs, and when our train pulled in and the locomotive had been taken to the round house I found the front end of the engine completely covered with a coating of these insects. It was then that I was told that we had run into some people on the bridge and knocked them into the river. I don't believe we hit these people at all—if we had, it would have been shown by the disturbance of this coating of insects. We examined the locomotive carefully, but could see no evidence of striking anyone. I firmly believe that they met death in striking the shallow river bed, thirty feet below, after they had jumped or fallen through the space between the ties and the outer iron work of the bridge."

National bank, predecessor to the recently defunct LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank, controlled by William Lorimer and C. B. Munday, was shaky three years ago, according to a report made public today by James H. Wilkerson, United States district attorney.

The report was that of a committee appointed by the Chicago Clearing House association in February, 1911, acting on application for admission of the bank to the association. The application was refused because of many dangerous practices and alleged unethical banking. The committee requested the directors to replace huge sums in doubtful collateral with quick assets and to cease the practice of loaning money to Lorimer and Munday and their enterprises as preliminaries to another application to the Clearing House association.

Mr. Wilkerson said the directors took no such action and a year later the bank surrendered its national charter and, under a state charter, became the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank. A special grand jury to inquire into the affairs of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank will be summoned next week by State's Attorney Hoynes, it was announced today.

SALEM LOSS IS $10,000,000

Lieutenant Governor Barry and Secretary of State Donahue were the night here. The governor announced that five thousand tents and ten thousand ration cases would be sent to the city at once. He also issued a call for a public meeting at the state house in Boston to take further action.

Noted Buildings Escape.
In the midst of the gloom caused by the staggering blow to the city, residents found cause for thankfulness in the fact that the more noted buildings and the museums, with their priceless collections of antiquities, were spared. The birthplace of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the "house of seven gables" and the old custom house, were threatened for a time and the flames approached dangerously close to the Peabody museum and the Essex institute, but none of these structures was damaged.

The companies of militia summoned to assist in maintaining order patrolled the streets today. Martial law was not declared, but no one was permitted to

Coronet in Sight for American Girl

Earl of Euston

New York, June 26.—The coronet of the Duchess of Grafton may be worn by a New York girl as the Earl of Euston whose engagement to Edith Havemeyer has just been announced is heir to the elderly Duke of Grafton.

Miss Havemeyer is the daughter of the late Henry Havemeyer the "sugar king" and she will endow her titled husband with millions of American dollars.

Seek Rest on Commons.
On the common and in open spaces in the outskirts of the city thousands of refugees tried to find a little rest during the night. Many stretched themselves out on the grass; others had managed to save mattresses or rocking chairs from their burning homes. Little groups huddled together about piles of household goods. Some of the children were frightened and crying, others hailed the night's adventures as a lark.

From 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a terrific explosion occurred in the factory of the Korn Leather company, at Proctor and Boston streets, the flames raged practically unchecked until midnight. The explosion is thought to have occurred in highly inflammable chemicals used in the manufacture of patent leather. This factory stood near the foot of Gallows hill, famous as the hanging place of witches in early colonial days, at the western end of the city. A high wind carried the flames through the manufacturing district and thence southeastward to the heart of the city and across a thickly populated tenement district to the water front.

Finest Residences Go.
A shift in the wind sent the fire northward along Lafayette street, where scores of the city's finest residences were burned. The fire spread out to another manufacturing center on the shore of the harbor and destroyed large factories. In the intervening area scores of business houses were swept away. The Salem hospital was among the buildings burned, but all the patients were safely removed.

Great quantities of apparatus from neighboring cities assisted in fighting the flames and finally succeeded in checking their passage southward. To the eastward they burned themselves out at the water's edge. The final stand was made near the Boston and Maine railroad station. Here several buildings were dynamited and the firemen at last gained the upper hand, saving the northeastern part of the city.

A separate fire, which the police say was of incendiary origin, destroyed thirteen dwellings in North Salem and threatened the plant of the Salem Oil company.

HOW TO SPEND $1,000 A WEEK ON YOUR LADY LOVE EASY—IF YOU KNOW HOW.

Mae Sullivan

(By Nixola Greeley-Smith.)

New York, June 26.—Mae E. Sullivan, who testified in her recent suit for breach of promise that the inheritance of the millions accumulated by the invention of the printing press has given her $1,000 a week during period of their engagement, is now drawing the same weekly sum for her appearance at Hammerstein's New York garden in a skit called "The Girl With a Hoe."

If I were a vaudeville manager I should not have offered the engagement to Mae Sullivan, but to Mr. Hoe.

For his sworn statements that he gave the girl presents of $3,000 and $4,000 at a time merely because he felt sorry for her marks him as absolutely unique among his sex and kind!

There are other girls in New York who, like Mae Sullivan, know how to induce men to spend $1,000 a week on them—other speckled lilies of the field who toil not, neither spin, yet Solomon, in all his glory, was not arrayed even as they! But I know of no man save Mr. Hoe who would have asked a New York jury to believe that he gave Miss Sullivan $1,000 a week from the motives of pure philanthropy!

Some persons may wonder how it is possible to spend $1,000 weekly—what ever the motive.

On Broadway nothing is easier! In ling state of things is permitted to continue.

An Everyday View of the Next Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, JUNE 28, 1914.

Quarterly Review of International Sunday School Lessons.

The months we are reviewing today include most of spring and part of summer. Beginners and primary pupils from their "nature lessons" will tell us some things the Bible says of the beautiful flowers and songful birds and rippling waters of the season, and some other things Christian poets have said of these seasons. (Children recite, one verse each, standing in a row, in clear voices, the following passages of Scripture: Gen. 1:11-13; Ps. 107:35-37; 104:10-13; 16-18, 24. Add poems about flowers and birds, and sing the song of the sparrow, "God careth for you;" also the motion song, "Hea! the music of the rain.") These references to nature will teach gratitude to God almost without saying, and it would be fitting to make a civic and spiritual lesson out of the water through which God changes the barren wintry landscape into a "watery garden," showing that what the beautiful flowers drink, what the happy birds drink, what the strong oxen drink is the best drink for boys and girls, for men and women. See our cold water recitations for little tots in Graded Temperance Helps, by W. H. Dietz.)

Decision Day.

(It is the custom of many Sunday schools to have an annual "Decision day," but we think it would be far better to make the last Sunday of each quarter the harvest day for the spiritual work of the quarter, reviewing—especially in the intermediate department—those lessons of the quarter that will help to the great decision.)

The boundaries of the intermediate grade, eight and twelve, are both momentous periods. The courts hold a boy may be responsible for even so great a crime as murder at eight years of age; and surely one old enough to be a criminal is old enough to be a Christian. It was at twelve years of age that Jesus, like other Jewish boys, "joined the church," and surely none of us should wait longer than that, for in his day they were not twenty-one till they were thirty and as thirty is to twenty-one, twelve is to eight. Boys are really as old at eight today as they were at twelve in those days. One reason why we should not wait beyond twelve is that the hardest battle with sin comes in the "teen age," and we should build our forts and "put on the whole armor of God" in advance. More people have joined the church at fifteen than at any other age, but probably the reason most of them did not start earlier was that parents and teachers did not sooner lead them to "the valley of decision," where "heaven is near."

There are five lessons in this quarter that give us God's invitations to this happy valley. Luke 15 shows us the five partners in a soul's salvation—God, the Father, is pictured in the loving, forgiving father of the prodigal; Jesus, the Savior, is pictured in the shepherd who goes far from the fold along steep and perilous paths to bring in the wandering sheep; the Holy Spirit is pictured as the lamp in the hand of the woman, who represents the true church of God, which is also seeking the lost sinner, pictured in the lost coin, precious because stamped with the image of God, in the lost sheep and the lost son. It is only in the wayward son that the sinner's power of decision is indicated, for when among the hussies and swine he said: "I will arise and go unto my father." The human will can accept or reject God's love and even the Savior's outstretched hands. Every soul that is not living at home with God is in "the far country," whether his wickedness is of the same kind as the prodigal's or not. Weeping will not save, but only willing. We need not make a long journey, for Jesus is here, knocking at the heart's door, saying: "If any man will open the door I will come in and sup with him and he with me." Shall it be like that Easter supper with Jesus at Emmaus (Luke 24:15-24), or will you refuse the invitation to the joyous feast of a Christian life, with insincere excuses? (Luke 14:15-24.) The right life is the gladdest life. It will not be free from struggle and sacrifice, but the sacrifices will lose their sting if we turn over to God all we have and are at the start for him to use as he will. "Whoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple." (Luke 14:33.) That means that "we can serve God without condemnation only as we serve him without reservation." What one "gives up" of sinful pleasures, compared with what one gets of solid satisfaction in right living and useful service, is but giving up poisons for a feast.

We mentioned in the Sunday school lesson for December 28, 1913, published in the Christian Herald of December 17, 1913, three possible pledges you might take. Imagine this dreadful contract: "I cannot love and serve Jesus Christ. (Signed) ———." You would not dare to sign that, for you know it wouldn't be true. Here is another: "I will never love and serve Jesus Christ. (Signed) ———." You would not sign that. You are no more ready to say "never" than to say "now." Here is another. Will you not put your name just now in the space waiting for it? "I will now and forever love, trust and obey Jesus Christ and do good to others in his name. (Signed) ———"

Vocation Day.

For classes whose members are in the "teen" age every quarterly review may well be "vocation day," and for those not yet members of the church that should be also "decision day," for the only way one can rightly and wisely choose a vocation is with the aid of Christ and for the sake of serving our fellow men as he did.

We found the first five lessons of the quarter gave us help to decision, though not taken in regular order. We shall find the remaining seven all of them helpful in choosing a vocation. For those who feel called to give their whole lives to the ministry or other missionary work, the story of the rich young ruler is very instructive. (Mark 10:17-31.) "The wonderful words of life that fell from Christ's lips were in such contrast to the dead forms he was accustomed to repeat in the synagogue that he seems to have been impelled to become one of Christ's apostles; that he might receive such words daily and pass them on as quickening forces to others." But when Jesus, seeing his strong devotion to the honors and luxuries that wealth brings, bade him throw off this "weight" and join the other apostles in a fellowship of poverty and service, he was "disobedient to the heavenly vision" and so missed the place as the twelfth apostle, which Saul of Tarsus, another rich young ruler, obtained later by meeting a similar test with the words of absolute surrender, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

Zaccheus is another case that contrasts with the rich young ruler. (Luke 19:1-10.) He was a publican, a Jew who collected taxes for the Romans and extorted more than the tenth he had a right to take, and so was what we call a "grater." But he repented and made restitution "fourfold" to those he had wronged, and devoted not a tenth but one-half of his goods to philanthropy. The vocation he chose, apparently, was that of a philanthropist, with some new sort of business as its foundation of supply. The vocation that most boys and many girls will choose is some form of business, but let us hope the business part of it will be conceived as Cary, the pioneer of missions, conceived of his work. He said, in substance, that his business was serving the Lord and his fellow men, and he cobbled shoes to pay expenses. Many lessons of the past quarter have a vital bearing on the boy whose vocation is some form of business. The difficult lessons of the Unjust Steward (Luke 16:1-3) and the Unprofitable Servant (Luke 17:1-10) teach that both our earthly and heavenly business should be done zealously and humbly; and Dives (Luke 16:19-31) warns those whose talent is money-making against using money selfishly rather than as stewards for God and man bound to use their property for the general good as much as a minister is bound so to use his knowledge and eloquence. Minister or merchant, we need for the choice of our vocation, and yet more for the fulfillment of it, the Holy Spirit, the mind of Christ" (I Cor. 2), which on that first Whitsunday, the day of Pentecost, equipped the timid, unlettered apostles to be world-conquering preachers. The supreme thing in "vocation day" is not only to say but to feel that service is first and salary second whatever we choose to be.

It may often be wise to choose two vocations, that one may be the support or supplement or at least a recreation to the other, as Paul's tentmaking made him more independent as a preacher, and Prof. G. F. Wright's geology tours rested him from teaching Greek. The spirit of the Boy Scouts is a good one, not alone for a day's outing, but for life: "Remember the other fellow and do a good turn every day." Pertinent to this charitable side of a business life is the bidding of Jesus: "When thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed and the blind, and thou shalt be blessed." (Luke 14:13.)

Citizenship Day.

In the adult department I know of nothing more fitting for quarterly review than to recall, on the basis of some one or more passages studied during the quarter, the newest Testament of the grace of God is shown in the moral progress of the city, the state, the nation and the world during the quarter.

In the days of Christ's ministry the Jews were subject to a Roman emperor and could not express human brotherhood by laws but only by individual charity. When rich and poor have the ballot justice should move and more take the place of charity. Moral reforms are human brotherhood expressed socially and unitedly in terms of law, as shown in those great constitutional phrases, "the general welfare," "the common weal." Courts have often said that the supreme purpose of law is to promote the public health and the public morals.

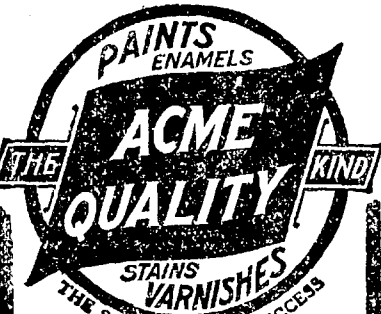

What progress has been made in three months past in promoting human brotherhood and social betterment? Speak first of the crusades against habit-forming drugs, Maine and Tennessee are enforcing prohibition with new vigor and good results. Illinois by aid of the new woman suffrage voters has closed 1,100 barrooms. (Not all women voted right, only 65 per cent, showing need of more educational work.) Minnesota has closed 185 saloons, Michigan, Nebraska, Ohio have also increased their dry areas; in Indiana, under a remonstrance law, that does not wait for a spring or fall election, is getting dryer all the while. Kentucky and Maryland have protected dry parts of those states against intra-state liquor traffic from their own wet towns. Secretary Daniels, of the navy department, by an order that officers shall observe the prohibition order "in force" but not enforced in the navy and always applicable to officers no less than to the plain marines, has "made the ocean dry," so far as our warships are concerned. Hon. Cato Sells, Indian commissioner, is vigorously enforcing the law against selling liquor to Indians, and is asking his associates in the Indian bureau to join him in giving the Indians an example of abstinence. The postoffice department is calling postmasters to account who take orders for liquors for premiums offered by liquor dealers. The United States senate and house of representatives both have on the calendars, though without recommendation, the Hobson-Sheppard constitutional prohibition amendment, which insures an early vote. It is powerfully opposed by great petitions, and will not win unless Christian citizens keep up a steady fire of petitions and letters and telegrams to congressmen up to the hour of vote.

Abroad, Scandinavia is steadily abolishing government ownership barrooms and hastening on to national prohibition. The czar has expressed his disapproval of the energetic promotion of liquor-selling by his government for the sake of revenue. Gains in the crusade of purity are shown in the fact that Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have joined the many other great cities that had previously abolished their vice districts. The list now includes New York city, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, Washington and a hundred other cities and thirteen whole states. And, as once before, thirteen stars will grow to forty-eight. Efforts are being made to revive laws permitting rice gambling, and good citizens must keep guard in all legislatures. On Sunday observance, too, there is need of great vigilance. Despite wars and war scares—the latter one of the regular products of the war traders' trust—the cause of international peace is growing, and the mediation of South American republics between the United States and Mexico is a distinct new step forward. Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Crafts are the Christian Herald.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 14:17-18.

1 And it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycania, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:

9 The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycania, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice to the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:

New Class of 'Phone Service

Despite a good deal of clamorous popular impatience with the telephone company, often well-grounded but quite as often the fault of ourselves or of some other subscriber, the telephone man is after all doing his share in progress-making. An innovation soon to be given a trial at Indianapolis seems to embrace possibilities that appear promising. It is the inauguration of a new class of telephone service to be termed the registered call service. Experience has shown that frequently calls of business importance are lost in offices because of the temporary absence of the persons called, particularly where the answering of the telephone devolves on some one person who can not be at hand at all times.

The plan of the Indianapolis company includes the establishment of a separate department for receiving and registering all such calls for subscribers who desire to avail themselves of this service, and then at the first opportunity these registered calls will be reported to the subscriber. The doctor, the lawyer or the business man who must leave his office can request that the telephone registry department keep a record of the telephone numbers of parties calling him in his absence and on notification from him, after his return, these will be repeated to him. It is proposed to make a charge of $1 a month for this service for offices.

The new schedule also provides for a similar service for residences at 50 cents a month. The residence service will include also the registration of calls made when the line is reported "busy," as often happens when residence lines are occupied with prolonged social talk. Manifestly it would be helpful and often valuable to be supplied with a list of calls or attempted calls made upon your telephone when you chanced to be absent or the instrument in use. The experiment is one which will be watched with interest both by the telephone companies and by subscribers to the service. If it proves to be as advantageous as it promises, we may soon expect to see registered call service in general use.

Applications for license at the office of the secretary of state indicate that automobiles are being sold in Indiana this summer at the rate of one hundred and fifty a day, and that the majority of them are going to the rural districts and the small towns. Thus far 53,511 machines have been licensed in the state this year, while 480 dealers are supply the demand for the autos, and there are 2,250 licensed chauffeurs in the state. Motorcycles listed number 8,597. The figures would seem to indicate that there is little depression, psychological or otherwise, in the automobile business so far as the trade in Indiana is concerned.

Edward H. Schmidt, United States marshal for Indiana, whose resignation was recently requested by Attorney General McReynolds in line with the Jacksonian adage relative to victors and spoils, has informally confided to the attorney general that he will get out very shortly. Under the circumstances we take it that nobody will be inclined to attach blame to Mr. Schmidt on account of his conclusion in the matters.

Governor Ralston's selection of George V. Kell, former senator from Allen county, as the Twelfth district member of the advisory committee to the newly-created state highway commission is an admirable one. Mr. Kell is not only a substantial citizen and one of Allen county's progressive farmers, but his experience and equipment fit him as an invaluable aide to the state commissioners.

The canvass for the new city directory indicates that Fort Wayne now has a population of nearly 83,000, a gain of some 3,244 in inhabitants during the past year. This confirmation of the census department's conclusion that Fort Wayne is the second city in Indiana in point of population, while not actually needed, is comforting, nevertheless.

UNCONSCIOUS CRUELTY TO CHILDREN.

"Perceval, come here this minute; sit down and be still."

"Perceval, stop chasing that cat!"

"Perceval, if you don't make less noise I'll tell father and he'll attend to you!"

And for a whole afternoon it was "Perceval, don't," and "Perceval, do," until tonight we expect "Perceval" will ring in our ears and prevent sleep.

It was in the park that we saw "Perceval" and his well-meaning but nervous mamma. They had gone there presumably that Perceval might have a good time. But if we're any judge of boyhood, Perceval wasn't having it, for he no sooner started to enjoy himself, boy fashion, that the sharp voice of his querulous guardian coiled itself around him like a lariat and yanked him into captivity.

Of course Perceval's mamma loved Perceval and thought she was shooting her machine-gun commands at him for Perceval's best interests.

The trouble with that woman was that she had never been a boy herself. Had she been, she would have agreed with the Minnesota man who told the convention of Sunday school teachers in Chicago that a boy is compounded of 50 per cent. play, 40 per cent. fight and only 5 per cent. each of work and religion.

It was easy enough, it was even enjoyable for her to sit still on a park bench and just be passive to the caresses of nature, for she was built that way.

But for a live boy—ugh!

ENEMIES COULD NOT DO WORSE.

Tyrus Cobb is a king of the diamond, all right; but he should try not to let it bust his buttons.

When Ty, the other day, punched the head of a butcher's clerk in Detroit and was nabbed by a cop and escorted to a police station, an upper official made haste to explain that Ty hadn't been arrested, and that the gun found concealed on his husky person wasn't there in violation of law forbidding ordinary folk to carry concealed weapons, but that Ty had simply been "detained for examination," and that he, long ago, had been given a gun permit.

"It would be bad for the city of Detroit if Cobb had to stay in jail," the police commissioner is quoted as having said. "It would be a civic calamity to keep him out of the game."

But here's what would be a worse calamity—to again convince folks to get it into their minds that the police, the courts and the government are playing favorites.

Ty is worth what he gets on the ball field, but he hasn't yet a license to be the town thug.

What is being done to the glorious sport of baseball these days by those who claim to be its friends, and especially by those whose living depends upon its reputation, is enough to make the sphinx groan.

TAKING THE STRANGER IN.

Three years ago, in a certain city, a cabman charged two newly arrived immigrants, ignorant of American talk and ways, $42 to haul them twelve blocks from the railroad station.

Today, in that same city, an official meets each incoming train, approaches the immigrant with a book of instructions in the foreign languages, changes his money for him, directs him where and how to go and sees that he gets started fairly.

That isn't all. The minute the immigrant gets to his destination a sympathetic person calls, sees that his needs are in way of attention and invites him to a school where American ways are explained by instructors who can speak in the immigrant's tongue.

To be sure, this wise change didn't come until the "foreigners" had become the voting majority in that city, making it prudent for foreseeing natives to cultivate their good will.

But the point of present interest is that it has come. It will be coming in every city pretty soon, we suspect and hope.

WILL OPPOSE WITH AFFIDAVITS

A. E. Melching Prepares to Contest Tale by Welker from Prison Cell.

Returning Thursday night from Indianapolis where he had appeared before the state board of pardons to oppose the plea for pardon by John Welker, under life sentence for the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Minnie Melching, in this city in 1905, Albert E. Melching, father of the slain girl, declared that he will at once procure affidavits to controvert many phases of the version of the killing submitted to the board by Welker. Melching is battling against the release of his daughter's slayer.

The Welker recital, written from his cell in the Michigan City prison, was presented in dramatic form before the board, and during its reading Mr. Melching, highly wrought up by his emotions, dashed from the room and paced up and down the state house corridor until he was able to compose himself.

Presented by Thomas.

Welker's story of thwarted love was read to the board by Attorney Albert E. Thomas, of this city, who said it was written by Welker in his cell and was told for the first time, as the prisoner had not taken the stand in his own defense.

"Come shoot me through the heart you love, and then shoot yourself," the girl whispered to Welker just before the tragedy, according to his story. She told him, he said, that she had written a note that they must die together. Welker had planned to go to Chicago, get work and send for the girl, he said, and this made her desperate as she feared she would lose him.

"In a flash," the convict's confession continued, "she had my gun out of my pocket and, as I grabbed it, it went off. Minnie screamed (Oh, imagine my state of mind if you can). I realized I was in for it; I aimed to shoot her through the heart (the heart that God knows I loved with all my heart and soul). I shot her several times, she became limp in my arms. I let her to the floor and then aimed to shoot my brains out. I dropped to the floor, but was still conscious. I repeatedly pulled the trigger, put the barrel of the gun against my temple, but there was no response. I then took my knife and endeavored to finish myself by cutting my throat. I lost consciousness."

Melching and Thomas Clash.

The father, after becoming composed, appeared before the board and pleaded that his daughter's slayer be kept in prison. He declared that the alleged "confession" was drawn by "some one" other than the prisoner.

"Do you mean to say," interrupted Thomas, "that I had anything to do with such a thing as that? You are a positive prevaricator—prevaricator of the worst type." Chairman Thomas of the board interfered and quieted the couple and Melching continued. He said the wound in the heart of the girl's parents, relatives and friends was still too raw for him to do other than contest the case.

"No father would have taken what I took," he said. "Another man would have stamped the cur to death where he lay on the floor. My daughter went into her grave with finger prints on her throat and her spiritual confessor has so testified."

The latter statement was denied by Thomas, who said there was nothing in the evidence introduced at Welker's trial to substantiate it. The board took the case under advisement.

OPINION ON FULL CREW LAW.

Honan Does Not Think Receiver Can Be Criminally Prosecuted

Indianapolis, June 26.—Thomas M. Honan, attorney general, has given an opinion to the public service commission in which he said he believed that the receiver of a railroad, under the existing Indiana statutes, can not be criminally prosecuted because of violation of the full crew law by the railroad he is operating as a receiver. The opinion is far-reaching in effect.

The attorney general, admitting that the full crew law in Indiana is a criminal statute, said the statute does not apply in terms to any officers, agent or employee of a railroad or to a receiver, but applies only to the company. A rule of construction of criminal statutes in Indiana has always been that no person can be prosecuted under such statutes unless he falls within the words of the statute and also the spirit of the law. Mr. Honan said:

Chairman, Duncan said the opinion from Honan had been asked after affidavits had been filed against the Washburn railroad at Logansport, charging violation of the full crew law. The Washburn is in the hands of a receiver.

Frank Hausbaugh, son of Nicholas Hausbaugh, the blind pencil vendor, suffered severe burns about his hands Thursday evening in attempting to turn on the lights in the Swinney park pavilion, where his father was giving an ice cream social. The boy was knocked to the ground and for a few moments was unconscious.

MINER HELD AS CHECK ARTIST

Police Believe They Have Practiced Criminal in C. A. Butcher.

Charles A. Butcher, who says he has been a miner in the west, and who has been stalling around Fort Wayne for some time as a detective of the tin star breed, was charged in the city court Friday morning with uttering a fraudulent check and was put under $400 bond for the continuance of his case until June 30. Other charges will be preferred meanwhile.

In Butcher, who was arrested Thursday night by Detective Sergeant Martin A. Rindell and Joseph Brennan, the police believe they have made an important capture. He claims to have ample means in Colorado banks to see himself through and while being taken to jail said he wanted to wire for money to put up a bond. Butcher's specific offense lies in having given the Dukes Clothing company a check for $30 in payment for merchandise. The check was drawn on the Citizens' Trust company, where Butcher has funds for which he holds a certificate of deposit in the sum of $400. This certificate, however, has the usual thirty day

HEAT DOES NOT AFFECT CROWDS

Carnival Throngs Continue Large and the Shows Best Ever Here.

The extremely hot weather seems to keep nobody away from the carnival. After a good dinner and a freshening up the average person apparently thinks that the festival is a good place to forget the temperature and the crowds increase nightly due, in a large degree, to the favorable advertising done by those who first investigated the attractions. The curious sometimes wonder how the carnival people themselves like hot weather. How does a duck like water? How does a boy like jam? The hotter the weather the broader the smiles of the attendants at the show. Hot weather means big crowds, good times, satisfied visitors.
There is nothing that the tattooed man, for instance, likes better. He recalled to a reporter this one cold week encountered this season when he abandoned his bath robe for a short period and in a sunny comfortable way. What is Indiana after Jamaica? Lala Cools is an unchanging institution, the show folks say, unaffected by any change in temperature, immune to the ills that fret everybody else.
The man-fish! Ah, there is luxury. The man-fish stays in water most of the day and is easily the happiest person in as possible and envied the little Aztec women their oil stove over which they bent as in devotion.

The Borneos are used to warm weather, but they say their native is did the peculiar style of hair dressing they affect would probably have ceased to be a fashion there long ago. The Igorotte, in the same pit, is content with life. It is pretty much like home to him for the heat waves that rise above the grass huts in his native hills are so blue they fairly smoke. He does not say all this in English, however; he merely laughs when the Anglo-Saxon watching him plays a fan with tireless vigor.
The electric wonder has the sustaining assurance that she is immune from danger of lightning and anybody who can be electrocuted and continue to smile is reasonably certain of not suffering sunstroke.
The little Aztec women are warm, there's no denying that. Yucatan is almost on the equator, but the nights are chill from the west winds that cross the adjoining states. The armless artist in warm, too, but in a sunny comfortable way. What is Indiana after Jamaica? Lala Cools is an unchanging institution, the show folks say, unaffected by any change in temperature, immune to the ills that fret everybody else.
The man-fish! Ah, there is luxury. The man-fish stays in water most of the day and is easily the happiest person in

Fort Wayne. He says he has forgotten the Kansas City days that the tattooed man remembered for it made him shiver still.
All the Hindoo magician, has no control over the elements. If he could shake his queer drum and say magic that would change the temperature he would. He says that just because a man was born in India and served in the English army in Egypt is no sign he has to love to be roasted.
And the choruses hate hot weather, but weeks and weeks of it each season hardens anyone in time. They talk about the lakes and brine the tent men to get them countless lemonades and let it go at that. May Harris doesn't like it either, but she is philosophical and says its no use fretting, because if she did that she might be caught napping and that would never do for the champion woman wrestler in the world.
As for the crowds. They seem to like it, as said before. Its wonderful what good dispositions people have under continued strain.
Crown the Queen Tonight.
Miss Hazel White, elected queen of the carnival Wednesday night, will be crowned with due ceremony at 8:30 to night in the big Anglo-Saxon animal show on the carnival grounds. The event was postponed from last night in order that better arrangements might be made than were possible on so short notice. Miss White will receive her crown and the $175 solitaire ring given as first prize. Miss Clara Dingman will receive the $60 diamond-studded gold watch and Miss Rose Swartz the $40 diamond set. The event is expected to be a ceremonious affair.

CALLED TO THE COLORS.
Summons to Greek Naval Reserves Has Significant Look.
Athens, Greece, June 26.—Seven classes of the Greek naval reserves were today called to the colors, the official explanation of the mobilization being "the increase of the fleet and the naval maneuvers to begin next week."
The real reason of the step taken by the ministry of marine, however, is understood to be the determination of the Greek government to be prepared for all eventualities, although there is an apparent slackening of the tension between Turkey and Greece.
DUKE OF AOSTA VERY ILL.
Italian Nobleman Suffers Typhoid From Eating Infected Oysters.
Naples, Italy, June 26.—The duke of Aosta, eldest cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, caused by eating infected oysters. The duke, who is a lieutenant general in the Italian army, is 45 years old.

GEN. WHISTLER DIES.
Retired Army Officer Was Inventor of Smokeless Powder.
Pensacola, Fla., June 26.—General Garland N. Whistler, aged 68, U. S. A., retired, is dead at his summer home here. General Whistler invented smokeless powder and a system of fire control for artillery coast defense by which officers in a central station can map out the exact location of approaching vessels.
600 BARRELS NAPHTHA BURN.
Oil Dropping in Heavy Spray Causes Tank Fire at Whiting.
Hammond, Ind., June 26.—What is said to be static electricity, caused by oil dropping in a heavy spray at the Standard Oil works in Whiting, ignited six hundred barrels of naphtha. The fire burned all day, covering the city with a pall of heavy smoke.
Hard work by the Standard and city fire departments saved neighboring tanks valued at $1,000,000.

FRANKLIN KELLER.

MRS. FRANKLIN KELLER.

A beautiful home wedding of two popular young people took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. E. Baxter, of 1503 Oakland street, at 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon in the marriage of their daughter, Myrtle, to Mr. Franklin Keller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Keller, of Elm street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. O. Shirey, pastor of Bethany church. Relatives and friends to the number of between thirty and forty assembled at the appointed hour to attend the wedding. While Miss Gertrude Seeley played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" the bride came down the vine wreathed stairway and met the groom and minister in an archway between the rooms, which was also festooned with smiles and decorated with palms, ferns and pink and white carnations. The bride, who is a fine looking young woman of a blonde type, looked quite lovely in a beautiful white crepe de meteor made with silk shadow lace and pearl bands and the finishing touch was her shower bouquet of bride roses and swansonia tied with tulle ribbon. There were no attendants.

ors, pink and white roses decorated the small tables at which the children sat for supper. Many merry games were played and the children spent a happy afternoon.

Meier-Kress.

A pretty wedding event of the week was that for which Miss Eva Kress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kress, of 419 Huffman street, was the bride and Mr. A. W. Meier, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Meier, of 1517 Franklin street, was the groom. The wedding took place in Precious Blood church at 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning, with Rev. C. Hummer officiating at the nuptial mass. After the wedding service and mass the bridal party went to the bride's home, where the breakfast was served. The bride was attended by two sisters, Miss Eleonora Kress, who was bridesmaid, and Miss Hattie Kress, who came home from Chicago, where she has been for several months, to act as flower girl. A brother of the bride, Martin Kress was best man, and Messrs. Fabian Kress, Louis Baker and George Dick were ushers. The bride wore a beautiful costume. Her gown was a combination of silk shadow lace and net, and she wore a veil and held a shower bouquet of bride roses and swansonia. The bride also wore a pearl head necklace, a gift of the groom. A wreath of swansonia blossoms held the veil to her hair. The bridesmaid wore a beautiful gown of blue crepe and a hat trimmed with pink roses and forget-me-nots. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The flower maid was prettily dressed in white and she carried a dainty basket of pink and white sweetpeas and roses. An elegant dinner was served to forty guests. The bride's table was done in smilax and roses with a bride's cake handsomely frosted, which the bride cut. Ferns and flowers decorated the rooms beautifully. During the afternoon the bride and groom left for Chicago and a lake trip and expect to be gone three weeks. When Mr. and Mrs. Meier return they will find a home already furnished and awaiting them in Huffman street. The bride is a sweet and pretty young woman of beautiful disposition. Mr. Meier is a fireman for the Pennsylvania and not only has many friends, but is held in high esteem.

Miss Elsie Frances Rohlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rohlman, and Mr. Alva E. Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Noble, of Columbia City, were married at the home of the bride, in East Creighton avenue, on Thursday noon by Rev. Mr. Hunter, of Columbia City, a family friend of the groom. Mrs. Hunter presided at the piano during the wedding service. The bride was attended by her twin sisters, Miss Ogeleta Rohlman, who was honor maid, and Miss Marguerite, who was bridesmaid, while Mr. Robert Kinney, of Chicago, was the groomsmen. Very effective decorations of palms, ferns and many flowers of the season made a pretty setting for the bride. The bride's gown was fashioned of white crepe de

(By Maybelle Mortimer.)
Notwithstanding all the bright colors that have been shown this season, the fashionable woman puts her faith in black. Every third gown you see on the streets of Paris, New York or Chicago is of that sombre color.
A black chiffon gown with black tulle ruffles is one of the season's most beautiful afternoon costumes. There is an increased fullness about the waist of ruffles all formal gowns. The cunning dress-maker, because of this, is making the tops of almost all skirts of shirred lace chiffon or silk voile. Then she puts on her frills and furbelows of whatever material her customer happens to fancy. There seems to be no diminution of ruffles, but probably by fall gowns will grow plainer, as the heavy materials that are shown in the advance styles for fall will hardly make fine

GIRL CALLS IT A MENACE TO HEALTH

Miss Ford, Therefore Has Declared War on "Salamander Shape."

Los Angeles, June 26.—Declaring that it is ugly, indecent and unhealthy, Hazel Ford, of this city, has opened war on the "salamander shape," otherwise known as the "debutante slouch."

Bend the knees, throw the weight entirely on one foot, allowing the other to drag gracefully, let the arms hang loose from the shoulders, bend back from the hips and thrust the chin forward and you have the "salamander shape."

Typical of the tango fad and become-

GAINLY THE "SALAMANDER SHAPE" IS.

ing to the latest of gowns, the "salamander shape" has taken Los Angeles by storm.

Miss Ford claims that as it is unnatural and purely affected, it is not beautiful and that, with the closely draped and slashed skirts, it is not only immodest, but indecent.

Her contention that it is unhealthy is backed by no less an authority than Dr. C. A. L. Reed, former president of the American Medical association. Dr.
Reed claims that the "passing slouch of 1914" may cause curvature of the spine, deformed pelvis, flat foot and deformed shoulders, the latter resulting in an undeveloped chest.

How's that for a danger signal?
"Los Angeles girls, to be in fashion," said Miss Ford, "have adopted the salamander shape." To me, and I believe to every other girl who has an ounce of reasoning, it is the climax of all unnatural fads which style decrees upon us. I agree with Dr. Reed. I believe the unnatural pose should be tabooed."

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?
When relief from rheumatic pains may be had at so small a cost it is surprising that anyone should fail to avail himself of it. Joseph Capparelli, Canadian, N. Y., suffered intensely with pains due to rheumatism in his limbs for a long time. A friend told him about Chamberlain's Liniment. One application relieved him wonderfully, and a few days' treatment effected a cure. Many others have found quick relief by applying this liniment. For sale by all deal-

CUT OUT 4 YARDS OF KISS.

Board Members Says One Yard is Enough for Any Smack.

Philadelphia, June 26.—Mrs. Cyrus

Niver, the only woman member of the new state moving picture censorship board, has come to the conclusion that one yard is long enough for any kiss, after several weeks spent here in passing upon thousands of yards of love drama films. The woman inspector has sat through yards and yards of kisses of every variety, and her ultimatum after watching an embrace which occupied five yards of film was that four yards be eliminated, and that the young people should be torn from each other after thirty-six seconds of kissing.

BEES FOR TIME OWNED A STREET

They Blockade Traffic in Cincinnati and Stop
Business.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 26.—Sycamore street, in the vicinity of Sixth street, was practically deserted, because of a swarm of bees which, after attempting to establish a colony at St. Xavier's college, were routed by students there and made things miserable for pedestrians, school children and factory employees in the vicinity. Business was practically at a standstill until the bees could be gathered into a box and taken away.

Conductors and motormen on the pay-as-you-enter cars which operate on Sycamore street had the laugh on their comrades who man open summer conveyances, although some of them got stung before the lesson was learned. Teamsters made but one attempt to reach the intersection of Seventh street and Sycamore, long detours being the order of the day after the first try-out. Pedestrians got wise on the way home and business men along Sycamore street used the back entrances in going to and fro.
The bees under the leadership of their queen took the liberty of swarming on one of the windows of the third floor of St. Xavier college. On that day some one discovered them and proceeded to route them with water. The bees attacked a car and forced the passengers and crew to take flight.

Fred Duker, with his son, Irwin, with a common old shoe box as a trap, gathered in all of the bees without any trouble, the youngster handling the bigger part of the job. With the departure of the bees, peace again reigned on Sycamore street.

While this was going on, Corporal Sterly and Officer Somhorst were on their way to police headquarters, limping painfully, but happy. They carried a large box in which they had as prisoners a queen bee and her swarm that had descended upon the occupants of a basement at Canal and Vine streets. Both officers showed swollen parts of their body as proof of the stings received.
Before the officers succeeded in gathering in this second swarm, the bees had invaded a restaurant and caused the diners to flee in terror.

ANTHONY'S DISCOVERY.

Son of Woman With Diamond Heels
Has Method for Sterilizing Water.

Boston, June 26.—Harvey Mitchell
Anthony, of Harvard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Anthony, of Muncie, Ind., has discovered what he says is a new and more economical method of sterilizing water.

He says that through using ultra violet rays emanating from tubes composed of quartz, he can sterilize water at least one hundred times as rapidly as under the old system of distilla-

IF SKIN ITCHES AND BREAKS OUT APPLY SULPHUR

Get ounce of bold-sulphur Cream and heal Eczema eruptions Right Up.

For years, common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections, by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticide, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin.

The moment you apply it to an itching or broken out skin the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist. Just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt and remarkable results, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which should be applied to the irritated or inflamed parts, like the ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant, and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the eruption is accompanied with itching. Adv.

South Comes Into Gold Medal Hunt With Regular Whale of a Fat Man

W. T. Brinson, 585-Pound Georgian, is a Farmer, and His Only Fault With Life is That He Has But One Vote—Turns Down Offers from Circuses.

Waycross, Ga., June 26.—Georgia, always supreme in big men, big cotton crops, watermelons, peaches and handsome girls is now raising high above all competitors—and it's some lift—the biggest man in the United States.

He is W. T. Brinson, a thriving and active turpentine distiller of Waycross. He has been stimulated into unusual activity of late by the reports in the news of various people who claim to be the champion fat men.

"Why, that John Busch, out in California," he exclaims, "and the little Irwin fellow up in Michigan—they ain't nothing but little punts. The whole two of them could get behind me and hide!" Brinson causes irreparable damage to all ordinary scales, but when a coal wagon scale, or something strong enough for him, is found, he makes it jump to the 585-pound mark.

That puts him practically a full hundred pounds ahead of his nearest competitor in the champion fat man contest. Brinson is rather blue these days, because he's losing flesh from overwork. Fifteen years ago he weighed a comfortable six hundred pounds, but he's lost full fifteen pounds since then, and complains dismally that he's worn to a shadow.

Brinson is a shrewd and successful farmer, merchant and turpentine operator. He drives daily to his work in his specially constructed vehicle—his buggy he calls it. But it is a marvelous thing to behold, and resembles more nearly an army wagon.

When he goes visiting his host never says to him, "Have a chair." That is, if the man is careful of his furniture. Instead he says, "Won't you have several chairs? Take a lot of them." And Brinson never sits on less than two, except at home, where he has an enormous rocking chair, of cantilever construction, which has to be moved about with a derrick.

Brinson is a keen politician and an ardent admirer of the littlest man in

TODAY'S FATTEST AMERICAN — EVERY BODY LOVES A FAT MAN."

W. T. Brinson

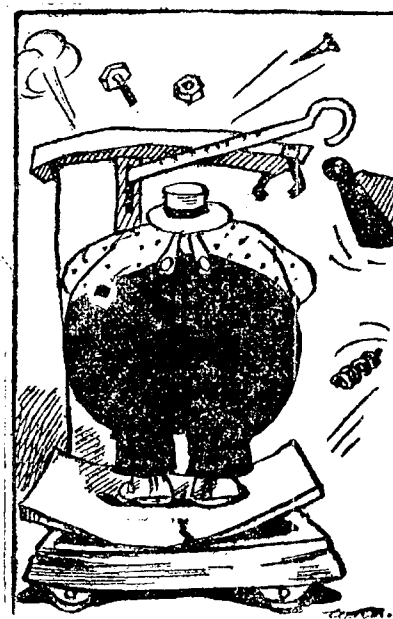

Georgia, ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown. He votes for Brown on every possible occasion—just as often as possible.

"But," he complained mournfully, "I can't vote as many times as most good Georgians, because my size makes me a mark for the election judges!"

SAFE LOCK GOES WRONG.

Trust Company, However, Does Business on a Big Scale.

Lebanon, Ind., June 26.—When the Citizens' Loan and Trust company opened its doors for business yesterday, it had only $200 in cash available. Sufficient deposits were made during the day to meet not only all demands, but also to leave a surplus of $500 at the close. In the vault was $400,000 in securities and $10,000 in cash, but the trust company officials could not touch it. The time lock could not be opened, and after working on the door several hours a lock expert from Indianapolis said that the only way remaining to get into the vault is from the top. The top coating of cement will have to be removed, as also a part of the steel plate lining large enough to permit a man to enter.

7,000 MILES A DAY BY FLYING TRAIN IS
LATEST INVENTION.

To prove to Mary Boyle O'Reilly the practicability of the flying train, the inventor hoisted a five-year-old boy on the model and turned on the current. As the photograph shows, the miniature flying train immediately arose and held the child in the air by the power of electric waves alone.

(By Mary Boyle O'Reilly.)

London, June 26.—It is only a question of time when we shall be traveling 300 miles an hour—possibly more. The flying train of the future already exists in little. This miracle of science will, it is confidently declared, carry mails, merchandise and ultimately passengers at the rate of 7,200 miles a day.

I have just come from talking with Bachelet, the inventor, a Frenchman long resident in the United States. A quiet, scholarly man, with no trace of cockiness about him, he received me in a long, low room nearly filled with the model of the new railway. The "train" is a steel car weighing forty-five pounds. When the current is turned on it is lifted bodily and fairly flies. Bachelet, discursive about his levitated railway, is loathe to speak of himself.

"I was born in France. Orphaned at 14, I went to Paris. Followed six lean years. Desperate, I emigrated to the United States. In Boston I became janitor of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Always eager to learn the 'tech' professors were equally willing to teach me.

My only capital was the miscellaneous electrical knowledge picked up as janitor of a technical school. I looked about for something to invent, something of general necessity—greatly desired. The idea was not far to seek. Speed is today the great desideratum. The world wants always more and more speed and is willing to pay for it.

"One day, experimenting with an electrical appliance designed for use in electric cases repelled certain asthma cases, I discovered that certain blood cells while certain other attracted them. The conclusion was obvious.

"I experimented further and found that the waves would do this. Remained only the problem of propulsion. Air resistance is an enormous factor where high speed is concerned. Current sufficient to propel 300 miles a minute will cost about one cent for every pound conveyed.

has come to stay. Passengers may not fly through space for some time to come. "But the conveyance of mails and merchandise at 300 miles an hour—ten hours from London to New York—will soon revolutionize the commerce and the industry of the world."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salt is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

WOMAN RUNS SNUFF FACTORY. Only Plant of the Kind in 79 Counties is Situated at South Bend.

South Bend, Ind., June 2.—This city has an unique industry which, according to Peter J. Krueger, United States revenue collector, was one of the reasons for bringing the revenue office to South Bend. The only snuff manufacturing firm in the seventy-nine counties which comprise the seventh revenue district is situated here. It is one of the few industries of the kind in the United States. The local snuff factory is run entirely by a woman, Mrs. A. Soderberg. Her husband, an employee of a local factory, had been a user of snuff for many years, and finally Mrs. Soderberg decided to begin its manufacture, although she despises the drug. The gross annual business of the concern today is $15,000, of which $2,000 must be paid to the government in taxes.

Just What She Needed. There is an old saying that "There is a remedy for every ill." It is sometimes years before you find the remedy exactly suited to your case. Mrs. Rachael Cribley, Beaver Dam, Ohio, was sick for two years with stomach trouble and constipation. She writes, "My neighbors spoke so enthusiastically of Chamberlain's Tablets that I procured a bottle of them. A few days' treatment convinced me that they were just what I needed. I continued to use them for several weeks and they cured me." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

THE BIG 3 LABOR SAVERS

"BUCK'S"
White Enameled Lined Gas Range

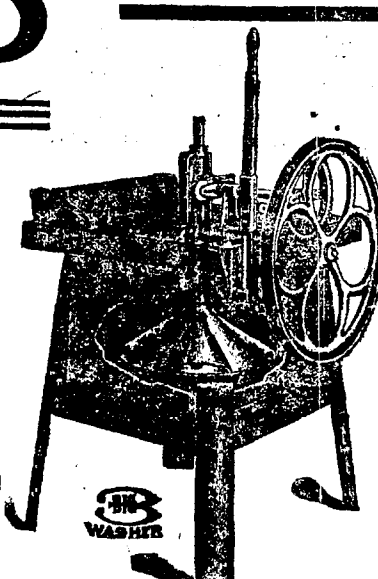

IS THE GAS SAVER OF THE CENTURY.

You wouldn't think of using tin cooking utensils, would you? Nor a plain, uncleanable, ordinary lined refrigerator? You want the enameled sort.

This is an age of white enamel; it is a sanitary age, and the only gas range that will meet your sanitary requirement is "Buck's," the Gas Range with the cast-iron, non-rustable, white enameled lined oven. Its linings are always snowy white, easily removed and readily cleaned.

Why not then a "Buck's" sanitary gas range; one that you know will always make and always bake your food perfectly wholesome? It's BEST for you and BEST for LOW GAS BILLS.

Vacuum High Speed Washer

THE THREE REASONS WHY QUICKEST. Because the quick action of the agitator drives the hot soap suds through the soiled clothes so forcibly that the dirt responds at once—three to five minutes will remove the dirt from any clothing that soap and water will clean.

EASIEST. It runs easier than any other machine because it works on the vacuum principle and requires only power to handle the water—not the clothing. This means no wear whatever to the clothing, as no rubbing is necessary. Easy on the clothes. Easiest to operate.

CLEANEST. Because it takes the dirt all out instead of rubbing a part of it into the cloth, as the rubbing process machine, or the old washboard, does.

WHY YOU SHOULD USE A "BIG THREE"

The "BIG THREE" will wash the most delicate fabrics, lace, curtains, shirt waists, etc., without the possibility of injury.

It will wash blankets, carpets and heavy clothing equally as well, because the water is forced through the cloth, carrying the dirt with it.

It will pay for itself twice every year by the saving in clothing. At least half the wear on clothing washed on a board, with the pes washers or any other rubbing process, has been in getting them clean. The "BIG THREE" cleans without rubbing and uses only about one-fourth the power required to operate others. Made also for Electric and Water Power.

She Solved The "Ice Problem" With An "Indiana Refrigerator"

She walked miles and thought she was getting paid for it until she stopped to figure out. Then she found she had been walking and paying, too. How many miles this woman walked upstairs and downstairs, six times each way every day, carrying food that should have gone in a sanitary Indiana Refrigerator.

She spent her time, her energy, her temper, and her food because she thought she was saving money.

You can't keep food in a sanitary condition this hot weather unless you have a modern refrigerator.

The INDIANA is a modern ICE-SAVING, FOOD-SAVING Refrigerator and pays its own way in the saving of ice and foodstuff. Every home should have one of these modern, up-to-date Indiana Refrigerators.

TELLS OF LIFE
AT FORTY BELOW

Ensign With Expedition of

Crocker Tells of Greenland.

ALL DAYS ARE ALIKE

New York, June 25.—"This is the life." Summed up in four words, this is the stamp of approval placed on life in the Arctic regions by Fitzhugh Green, ensign, U. S. N., a member of the Crocker land expedition of the American Museum of Natural History.

Green's letter was one of a number brought to Copenhagen from Greenland by Knud Rasmussen, the explorer. It was as follows:

"Dear Father: I have just written mother telling her we are happy and well. Our house is a howling success. It is electric lighted and we have hot and cold water on tap. We eat two meals a day, at 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. We haven't seen the sun since October (letter was written on January 11.) but the horrors of an Arctic night are all rot. Simply because you are having such a cracking good time at other occupations that you have no time to think of home except now and then."

"I am having a lot of new clothes made for the spring trip. The dash to Crocker Land will be a hard pull, but I do not think that we will fail. Do not think that I am careless. The cold is different than the cold at home. It is not to be feared so much as other things. Wind at 40 degrees below zero—real wind, that roars like an express train coming through a tunnel—is hell. It doesn't pierce the skin clothes that we have, but it seems to get in under them in a fendish way that can not be imagined."

Happy Life—Hard to Keep Straight. "We work in the mornings. I usually walk in the afternoons. After dinner we study, play chess or read. It is a happy life. The nights and days are all alike, and sometimes it is hard to keep straight, as it is always night."

I sleep in a snow igloo that he built for me outside the house. Mac does the same. The bunk is pretty stuffy compared to the outside air. "I could write all night about things, but will tell you some day. All I have to say is that I hope the ship gets wrecked on her way up to take us back so that we can stay another year. I guess the Lord made me an Eskimo and then forgot and sent me to you instead of Pan-ik-Pah or the like. Your loving son, FITZHUGH."

PLAN FOR PARTY.

Associated Christian Workers Will Enjoy a Trolley or Bus Ride.

The social committee, Emil Koenig, chairman, of the Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne, at a recent meeting made plans for a party to be given for the members of the association. This party will either be a trolley or an automobile bus ride terminating at some place where a social time will be enjoyed. It is thought, however, that trolley cars will be secured and that a ride will be given from the traction terminal to Robison park and back and then out to the county orphan's home on South Broadway, where a social time will be enjoyed. This affair will be given some evening during the first part of August.

Interesting Program Arranged.

An interesting program has been arranged by the committee on sports for the annual picnic to be given Saturday by the Southside Baptist Sunday school and congregation at Robison park. The members of the Sunday school will gather at the church at 10 o'clock, where a special car will take them direct to the park. A large dinner will be served at 12:30. A juvenile committee will take charge of the children.

Rural Church Activities.

Taylor Chapel Methodist Sunday school on the Mayville road will observe children's day with an interesting program Sunday evening. Mr. Abner Lantz, the superintendent, will be in charge of this program.

The trustees of the Union Chapel south of the city have arranged for an ice cream social to be given on the church lawn Saturday evening.

To Celebrate Children's Day.

The Sunday school of the Missionary church will render a brief children's day program in the chapel of the Bible Training school Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Following the rendering of the program an outing will be enjoyed by all. All members of the school and parents of the children are expected to be present.

To Observe Mission Feast.

The Evangelical Lutheran Bethlehem church, W. Schust, pastor, in Washington township, will celebrate its annual mission feast next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. A. Ficker, of Detroit, Wash. will be the principal speaker of the day, and it is thought a large audience will be present to greet him.

INTERCEPTOR IS CAUSE OF WORRY

Delay in Getting It Put in Condition Forces Sewage Into Rivers.

The conditions that are keeping the big intercepting sewer out of commission are causing the board of works some anxiety because a great volume of sewage is being forced into the St. Mary's river and is polluting that stream and the Maumee river through a large part of the city. The low stage of water and the intensely hot weather threaten to bring about conditions more serious than a mere nuisance. The cleaning and repairing of the sewer are progressing, but little more cleaning will be possible until the oxygen helmet ordered by the board of works arrives. It has been delayed beyond a reasonable time and the board is becoming impatient. The old deposits of sand in the sewer create a terrible stench when stirred up, and it will not be safe for a "sewer rat" to work in the big conduit until means of protecting him from the poisoned air have been provided. The board hopes to get the sewer into commission within a few days.

PAVING RESOLUTION CONFIRMED.

Board Acts on Improvements for Many City Thoroughfares.

Seventeen of the street paving resolutions before the board of works to be confirmed Thursday were so acted upon and two were modified. Upon four of the action was rescinded pursuant to remonstrances. The streets confirmed were as follows: Carolina street, from Sutherland to Pontiac; Wayne street, from Sutherland to Broadway; New Haven avenue, from Wayne street to Birchwood; Webster street, from Sutherland to Fairfield; Hayden street, from Hanna to Anthony; Eliza street, from Francis to Gay; Maumee avenue, from Sidney to city limits; Grant avenue, from Wayne to Maumee; Wayne street, from curb line to curb line of Grant avenue, extended to the north line of Wayne; Onida street, from Lake to Riverfront; Superior street, from Spy Run to Lafayette; Hendricks street, from Fairfield avenue to Martin; Martin street, from Hendricks to Broadway; Putnam street, from Wells street to Jessie; St. Mary's avenue, from Back to Archer; Fifth street, from Wells to Cass. The width of the proposed pavement on New Haven avenue was changed to twenty-eight feet and that of St. Mary's avenue to thirty-two feet.

The board granted remonstrances against the proposed improvement of the following streets: Illinois street, from Watkins to Greenwood; Watkins street, from Main to Illinois; High street, from St. Mary's to Runyon; Sixth street, from Harrison to Cass.

Bids will doubtless be received for the seventeen streets confirmed some time before the end of July so that, should the council appropriate the money for later sections, the work may be completed this year.

NEED OF SWIMMING POOL.

That a modern swimming pool must be provided in Fort Wayne is a topic to have a place for itself. Water frolics is emphasized by the action of the park board in requesting the police to stringently enforce the city's rule that no one be allowed to swim in the lakes and ponds of any of the city parks. The boys are careless about the rules and are themselves, and when the park board provided a tent at Reservoir park in which the urchins might undress and dress, some of the more rowdyish youngsters tore it down repeatedly.

TO RECONSTRUCT TRACKS.

While the traction company is reconstructing its tracks on Calhoun street, from Wallace street to Creighton avenue, it will use a temporary track to be laid along the east side of the street. Permission to lay such a track has been granted by the board of works. The track's inner rail will be six feet from the curb line and the high tension wire that carries current will necessitate the trimming of a number of trees, which work will be done under the supervision of City Forester Carl J. Gatz. The broken stone and dirt taken from the excavations for the new tracks on Calhoun street will be hauled to Broadway and used to fill up and broaden the roadway for a distance of 400 feet. About twenty-four hundred loads will be available.

We are obliged to get fresh and new ones most every day! But this year's skirts are so practical and so attractive—what with pockets to hold one's handkerchiefs and change and other little belongings—and new tunics and big buttons—it is small wonder they are so well liked.

A new standard has been established in our pre-shrunk skirts, at the same price range as the ordinary kind.

$2.50 to $5.00

At last we have secured ready-to-wear wash skirts with the greatest part of the shrinkage removed. These pre-shrunk wash skirts are made for us exclusively in Cleveland by the H. Black Co., famous as makers of Wooltex.

Materials and waist bands are shrunk by a special process.

Inside seams are overcast with stitching instead of material that tends to shrink more than the skirt itself.

Finally, the skirts are tailored into shape in the superior Wooltex way, all of which assures a skirt that will retain its original shapeliness after laundering.

An excellent variety of desirable styles, long tunic, plain tailored, and girder top models in the fashionable ratine and crepe weaves are priced from $2.50 to $5.00, no more than you pay for ordinary kinds.

Gen. Funstons Great Story, "Me and Two Wars"

Funston Captures Filipino Secrets

has been related. In this chapter the capture of correspondence and Filipino secrets that helped in the downfall of the insurgent cause is described. After this installment General Funston will begin the real story of the capture of Aguinaldo.)

CHAPTER XXIII

By GEN. FREDERICK FUNSTON.
Brigadier General, United States Army.

The next day Koehler and I were waiting for our meal to be brought to us, when the former sniffed the air and said:

Gen. Funston

"I smell chicken cooking. I'll bet it's that little cuss Albright."

The unfortunate Albright was sent for, and approached looking exactly like a boy who has been caught with an arm up to the elbow in one of his mother's jars of peach preserves.

"Albright, have you been stealing chickens again?"

"Yes, captain."

Then a long and judicial silence, ending in an order for the recently deceased bird to be brought up for inspection, in order, I suppose, to establish a corpus delicti, as the lawyers would say. The sizzling fowl was placed on the ground before us; then another judicial silence, followed by the dictum:

"You know the orders about looting. You are fined one broiled chicken."

The enterprising soldier walked away, glad to have got off so easily, but in the meantime the fragrance had smitten our nostrils and we could feel our rectitude fairly oozing out of us.

Koehler broke the painful silence by saying, "It would be a positive sin to leave that for the ants to eat, and it won't do to let the man who stole it have it. We must do our duty," and we did, but I could not help feeling a bit sneaking as I got away with my part.

Seven years later I was the guest of Maj. H. C. Benson, Fourteenth cavalry, then superintendent of the Yosemite National park, on a fishing trip, and recognized among the soldiers on duty with the small pack train we had with us the same man who on the occasion described had so inadvertently contributed to my lunch. I said:

"Hello, Albright, is there anything doing here in the chicken line?"

He grinned sheepishly and said it was a poor country for chickens.

With us now, in spite of mud and rain, the war went merrily on. It was a sort of process of accretion by which we hoped in time to wear the insurgent bands down to nothing. Our losses were not great, and every rifle captured from the enemy lessened his power just so much, for while men could be gathered up from the hills and forced to fight, the weapons lost to us could not be replaced.

On August 1, Lieut. F. W. Alstaetter, corps of engineers, while making an examination of the road between San Miguel and San Isidro, was overwhelmed by Lacuna. Alstaetter had three enlisted men of his own corps and an escort of eleven men of the Fourth cav-

THE FLEEING MAN WAS NO OTHER THAN THE GREAT LACUNA HIMSELF.

Within a couple of weeks the enlisted men were released, but he still held the officer. It was only a short time, however, until the opportunity presented itself to bring about his release.

A concerted movement of the garrison of half a dozen towns was made with the object of clearing of insurgents the flat country between the mountains and the Canabala swamp. The operation was greatly interfered with by bottomless mud and swollen rivers, but some good little fights were had, nevertheless. In one of these Lieut. Col. Manuel Ventus, one of Lacuna's subordinates, was wounded and captured, being placed in our hospital for treatment. As soon as he was near recovery I wrote Lacuna, stating that while I could not arrange an exchange of prisoners with him, I promised to release Ventus if he would do the same with Alstaetter. A few days later the latter was escorted to our outposts by a couple of insurgents and Ventus was released at the same time, but was allowed to remain in the hospital until his recovery.

For months we had known of the presence with the insurgents of this region of an American negro named Fagan, a deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry. This wretched man was serving as an officer and had on two occasions written me impudent and badly spelled letters. It was mighty well understood that if taken alive by any of us he was to stretch a picket rope as soon as one could be obtained.

Fagan was prominent in the fight in which the detachment above referred to had been captured, and appropriated Alstaetter's West Point class ring, declining to give it up on the eve of the latter's release. In the course of time we got not only the ring, but Fagan's head in a sugar sack.

On October 13 I went out on a short raid with the scouts under Day, and troop A, under Lieutenant Morrison. Major W. C. Brown going along for the excitement, Mitchell because he was my aide, and Dr. Pease in order to mend our hunts.

We had a brisk little fight with an equal force of the enemy, driving them with some loss, and having Private Robinson of the scouts, wounded.

Ten days later I started out just after dark with the same two organizations. We plodded along through the sodden fields, keeping off all trails and roads, and just after daybreak were about fifteen miles southeast of San Isidro, when the man on point reported that we were approaching a small group of houses. These little isolated hamlets were always apt to yield something during the rainy season, when the insurgents, like ourselves, were not averse to sleeping under cover.

We trotted quietly into this one, when Gantzhorn, of the scouts, who was in the lead, was fired at from the window of a small nipa shack at a distance of not more than six feet, but was not hit. Gantzhorn had his revolver in hand, and returned the fire, hitting in the neck the man who had shot at him, killing him almost instantly.

In an instant men began to run from the houses, some of them starting a fire, but the most of them thinking only of gaining the brush. One man, who from his appearance we knew to be an officer, dashed down the bank of a ravine and through water up to his waist, while Gantzhorn and I emptied our revolvers at him. The former then plunged his horse over the bank of the ravine, fully fifteen feet, but I had not the nerve to do it.

The fleeing man was none other than the long-sought Lacuna himself, and months later he told me that it was the closest call he ever had. Once into the jungle, he was safe, and escaped. He had been spending the night here, accompanied by a small escort.

In the house that he had fled from we captured much of his correspondence, and most important of all, the stamped paper on which were afterward written the bogus letters over Lacuna's signature that were to be the undoing of the famous Aguinaldo, the king bee of them all. In this affair we suffered no loss, but killed two men and took five prisoners, three of them wounded, and also captured six rifles, some ammunition and four ponies, with their equipment. ## New Home Treatment for All Hairy Growth

(Modes of Today.) With a plain delatone paste, it is now an easy matter for any woman to keep her face, neck and arms free from hairy or fuzzy growths. Just enough paste is made with powdered delatone and water to cover the hairy surface. This is applied in 2 or 3 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. After this treatment every sign of hair has vanished, and the skin is free from spot or blemish. Be very careful to see that you get genuine delatone.

INCREASING SHOP FORCES

Demand for Grain Cars the Cause of Greater Activity at Shops.

The Pennsylvania is increasing its forces at the east car shops and is also working the men full time—fifty-nine hours per week. A number of men were added to the rolls yesterday and more first-class car repairmen are still needed and will be employed as rapidly as they apply until the ranks are filled. The rush is chiefly in putting grain cars in serviceable condition to handle the western wheat crops, which will be moving in another week. Other departments—the locomotive repair shops—are still working on a thirty-two hour weekly schedule, but may increase the hours in July.

WAS BEST IN HISTORY.

Tournament of Firemen at Bluffton Great Success.

"The best in the history of the association," is the way Fred G. Duryee, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, expressed his opinion of the tournament at Bluffton of the Northeastern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association, which took place yesterday. "The contests passed off in the most orderly manner and without a hitch or visible disapproval by any," continued Mr. Duryee. "This was due in a great measure to the excellent work of the judges, each of whom came from outside the district and was absolutely disinterested so far as the individual companies were concerned," he said. The board included Mr. Richmond, secretary of the state fire marshal, of Indianapolis; Mr. Stone, of the Underwriters' bureau; Mr. Selbert, of Des Moines, and Messrs. Doe, Fisher and Brownfield, of Wapakoneta, Ind., the last four named being members of the Northeast Ohio Volunteer Firemen's association.

The chief prize—the hose-laying contest—was won by the Fort Wayne Electric works firemen. This company ran 300 feet, laid 200 feet of hose, broke the coupling and placed the nozzle in the unprecedented time of thirty-one seconds. The General Electric Lamp works' company was awarded second prize, making the run in thirty-five seconds. Accidents disqualified Union City and Berne companies, who were also participants in this contest.

The water battle was a most exciting scene, lasting five minutes, and developed some remarkable courage and nerve in some of the participants. This prize was awarded to Montpelier, against Union City, the only other participant.

The General Electric Lamp company's firemen won the prize for being the best drilled team at the tournament. They did exceptionally well and received praises from all quarters.

An attractive feature of the parade and elsewhere was the electric auto chemical machine—designed and built at the Fort Wayne Electric works—which appeared in public for the first time at the Bluffton tournament.

There were twenty-eight companies at the tournament and twenty-two of them, as well as ten bands, appeared in the parade. The latter was declared the best seen at any of the tournaments, owing in part to the fact that every company had new uniforms.

The association had no part in the beer incident mentioned in the papers Thursday. None of the companies approved the scheme of bringing beer to Bluffton and but few of the firemen knew it was there. The only party they took in the matter was to banish from the parade some men carrying banners bearing the legend, "They stole our beer."

CEMENT FINISHERS.

Union Will Be Organized at Meeting Friday Night.

Last Friday night temporary organization of the cement workers was effected and at a meeting this evening permanent organization will be completed and another strong union body will be added to the list of organized labor unions of Fort Wayne. Organization work is being handled by Henry C.

Holtje, who has given it a great deal of attention, assisted by other labor leaders in the city. National headquarters of the cement finishers is located at San Francisco and the charter will come from that city. Officers of the temporary organization are: George Jaap, Jr., president; C. Jackson, vice president; William Zimmerdorf, secretary; O. B. Summers, treasurer, and N. Groves, sergeant-at-arms. The union will start out with about fifty charter members.

FIRST WEEK-DAY EXCURSION.

The first week-day excursion from Fort Wayne to Cincinnati over the Lake Erie and Western road Thursday was not quite up to expectations in a numerical way, but it did fairly well and may be repeated later in the season. Seventy-two people bought tickets at Fort Wayne and made the trip and some of the stations south of Fort Wayne contributed liberally to the party. But one of the cities from which good patronage was expected had few excursionists. That was Bluffton, which entertained the Northeastern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association, at a tournament yesterday. Sunday the company will have another excursion to Cincinnati.

GOING TO CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Daseler, their daughters, the Misses Valetta and Senda Daseler, and son, Vernon, will leave tomorrow morning for Los Angeles, stopping en route to visit a day or two in Chicago, Kansas City and Denver. They will return home in the latter part of July. Mr. Daseler is assistant general foreman of the Pennsylvania power station.

CREATES NEW OFFICE.

Safety appliance inspector on boilers and engines is a new office on the Nickel Plate and the position has fallen to John J. Hewitt, of Connaut, O. Mr. Hewitt is an old employee of the Nickel Plate and member of the Veterans' association. His office is the result of an order from the interstate commerce commission.

WILL ATTEND MUNGUOVAN FUNERAL.

The employees of the Wabash shops will attend the funeral of the late Thomas C. Mungovan, which occurs at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. They will go direct to the house. Mr. Mungovan was one of the most popular men at the Wabash shops, where he worked a half century.

ARM BADLY CUT.

William Miller, an apprentice in the Wabash boiler shop, had a three inch gash cut across his left forearm yesterday when he struck the member against the edge of a sheet of boiler steel. The company's surgeon was called and had to take several stitches in closing the wound.

BUSINESS IS IMPROVING.

The past three or four days have marked a very gratifying increase in the movement of freight over the Grand Rapids and Indiana road. The movement was very heavy yesterday, it being necessary to borrow engines from the Pennsylvania.

PUNCTURED HAND WITH OIL CAN.

A. C. Koenig, of the Wabash machine shop, ran the spout of an oil can nearly through his right hand yesterday. The sharp point made an ugly wound in the palm, but no serious results are apprehended.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

J. M. Zollars, of the Pennsylvania shops, is sick and off duty. Walter Seibold, of the Wabash shops, will go to Decatur, Ill., tonight to spend Sunday with a friend. Mrs. J. J. Sullivan, wife of the Wabash boilermaker, is with relatives in Toledo for a week-end visit.

John Hosler, of the Wabash shops, and his wife will go to Detroit to spend Saturday and Sunday with friends. Howard and Homer Hibbler, of the Wabash shops, have gone to Decatur, Ill., where Howard will have an affected ear treated by the company's specialist.

Sunday School Supt. Works for Children

Mrs. M. E. Bryner

Chicago, June 26.—The Sunday school "drummer" is what Sunday-school workers call Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, superintendent of the International Sunday School association now in session in Chicago.

In the last year Mrs. Bryner traveled more than 31,000 miles organizing children's Sunday school classes and cradle rolls. Her territory extends from Canada to Mexico and she has brought thousands of children into the Sunday schools.

This week will leave for his home in St. Louis tonight.

Miss Catherine Buckley, daughter of Joseph Buckley, of the Wabash shops, has gone to Decatur, Ill., to be the guest of the family of P. A. Thompson for a few days.

Fireman C. D. Hoffman, of the Nickel Plate, was overcome by heat at Mortimer Wednesday while at work in the cab. He was taken back to Bellevue, his home, and soon revived.

Mrs. H. A. Stahl, wife of the well known machinist at the Pennsylvania erecting shop, will leave early next week for Angola, New York, where she will spend a week or two with relatives.

R. F. Fitzpatrick, general foreman at the Pennsylvania round house, leaves tonight on a western trip. He will stop at a number of cities, including Denver, Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs and the famous Yellowstone park.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Rodabaugh left today for Lake James to occupy their cottage during the summer months. They have made this a practice many years, missing only one season and that was when they were in Colorado and California.

J. F. Smith, for the past eighteen months employed as a helper in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, resigned this morning. He has made arrangements to take up farm work again and will soon move his family to the country near New Haven.

Carl Klees, professor of astronomy at the University of Missouri, at Columbia, Mo., arrived here yesterday and will remain with his father, John F. Klees, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, until September, when the college term begins.

Express Messenger M. J. Welch, of the Lake Erie and Western, suffered painful injuries to one of his hands a few days ago when the member was caught under a trunk he was handling and bruised. He was assisting in placing baggage in a car when the accident happened.

Another large party of Norwegians from the northwest will pass through the city on a special train over the Nickel Plate Sunday evening. They will be accompanied by C. A. Asterlin, the district passenger agent from Minneapolis. The party will be a large one and the train will have twelve cars.

James A. Lechler, of the Wabash shops, who attended a joint picnic at Rochester, Ind., of the union men of that city and Peru, and was one of the speakers, says that the picnic was one of the best he ever attended. There were fully 4,000 people on the grounds. The Lake Erie and Western ran a special train from Peru to Rochester and carried over 900 people on it.

HIGH TRIBUTE TO WILSON.

Carnegie Praises Him for Action on Tolls Repeal Clause.

London, June 23.—High tribute was paid to President Wilson by Andrew Carnegie and Baron Shaw, of Dunfermline, for his action in bringing about the repeal of the clause in the Panama canal tolls bill exempting American coastwise shipping from the payments of tolls. The speeches were delivered at a dinner held at the National Liberal Club in celebration of the centenary of peace between the English-speaking nations.

Mr. Carnegie was the guest of honor at the dinner and in addition to his remarks on the Panama canal tolls bill expressed the hope that he would live to see President Wilson lay the foundations for universal peace.

Baron Shaw advocated raising $100,000 to found a British American chair of history in some great British center of learning and suggested the appointment of some man like Viscount Bryce as lecturer.

ZACATECAS, KEY TO MEXICO CITY, WHICH HAS JUST BEEN CAPTURED BY REBELS.

The last stronghold of Huerta's army outside the capital is now in the hands of the rebels, and the march on Mexico City of Villa's men threatens to wreck the plans agreed upon by the mediators and plunge Mexico into greater chaos. Zacatecas was the last big town in the way of the rebels, and when Villa led his 26,000 men against it he won the day only after great losses. But the victory makes the rebel general master of the situation in Mexico, and it seems that his threat to string up Huerta to the nearest tree is near execution.

MORE HEAT PROSTRATIONS.

Indianapolis, June 26.—Two more heat prostrations, neither serious, were reported today. A. R. Sarra, president of the Gatlin Institute of this city, was overcome as he was about to board an interurban car for Noblesville. Charles W. Cruz, 33, an oil wagon driver, was prostrated while at work.

The temperature, as reported by the government weather bureau, was 91 at 2 o'clock.

TRAIL IN SNOW TOLD CRIME STORY

Old DeKalb County Case is Up for Hearing Before Pardon Board.

Indianapolis, June 26.—How a trail in the snow told the mute story of a crime in DeKalb county, for which Levi Kessler has served a prison sentence since February, 1886, was told to the state board of pardons by Robert W. McBride, trial judge in the case. Kessler, a section laborer, was convicted of killing his foreman, a man named Harner.

After Harner's body was found in the snow near New Era, Ind., it was rumored that he and Kessler had started out together the night before. Tracks were found in the snow where the two men had walked together, then one pair of tracks stopped and one went on to the New Era station, the former judge said it was testified. Later Kessler boarded a train and fled, only to be captured later.

At the trial Kessler, on whose person Harner's watch was found, said he had purchased the watch, an argument followed and that he shot Harner, when the latter attacked him.

Kessler was found guilty by a jury and mobs formed to lynch him, Mr. McBride said, but that he leaped into a carriage and hurried the prisoner away. The board took the case under advisement.

The board also considered the case of Frank L. Brown, sentenced from Miami county in 1912 for assault and battery with intent to murder his wife and expected to complete its June hearing late today.

Filipino Justice Today is Administered Better

Los Angeles, June 26.—"Petty justice including innumerable cases touching 80 per cent. of the Filipinos, is being administered today far better than ever before in the history of the islands by native justices whom they consult by telegraph and from whom they receive immediate help at request," said Judge Adolph Wislizenus, of the district of Cebu, now here with his wife.

"The justices try cases involving punishment as high as six months in jail and $100 fines, so their power to enforce the law is great. Formerly there was much graft. Today that is almost unknown."

JUDGE ADOLPH WISLIZENUS.

force the law is great. Formerly there was much graft. Today that is almost unknown."

"Once a year in Cebu I visit the fifty towns where there are justices, receive their reports, listen to complaints against them if there be any, and meet the presidents and town officials."

Judge Wislizenus often rides horseback thirty miles a day in the tropic heat in covering his territory, which is 200 miles long and averages twenty-five miles in width, making a total of 5,000 square miles of jungle and mountains.

He has spent twelve years in the Philippines and ten at Cebu. Since arriving in Los Angeles, he received a cablegram announcing his reappointment to the bench in Cebu.

HUSBAND SPURNS HIS UNBORN HEIR

Mrs. Pauline Ulrich Files Sensational Divorce Complaint.

Charging that her husband, Arthur J. Ulrich, detests the notion of being a father, does not want children and has tried to drive her to get a divorce ever since he learned that she would become a mother, Mrs. Pauline Jane Ulrich has filed suit in the superior court for a decree of complete separation. Her husband, she says, has informed her that he does not want children and will not give a thing to the support of them. He deserted her June 24, it is charged. Besides this she says he is a habitual drunkard and has often struck and bruised her and threatened her with bodily injury. Mrs. Ulrich asks that the suit be postponed until after the birth of the child and that she then be given custody of it. Alimony in the sum of $1,000 is demanded. An order to restrain the Fort Wayne rolling mills from paying Ulrich his wages has been issued. The couple were married in October, 1912.

Wants $5,000 for Child's Death.
In the circuit court Charles B. McCoy has sued the Brown Trucking company for $5,000 damages for the death of his two-and-one-half-year-old daughter, Muriel McCoy, who was run over in Columbia street a few weeks ago and injured so badly that she died a few minutes later at St. Joseph hospital. It is charged in the complaint that the defendant placed one of its large trucks in the hands of Ernest Bolman, who is alleged to have been a young and incompetent driver, and by his carelessness to have run down and killed the child.

Wife Charges Desertion.
In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court Nettie Spangler charges that her husband, Frank Spangler, more than two years ago deserted her and has not since contributed anything to her support. They were married in 1910. The defendant is a non-resident of the state of Indiana. Mrs. Spangler asks that her maiden name be restored. Notes of the Courts.

Henry Franke has commenced suit in the superior court against Catherine Miller and others to foreclose a mechanic's lien, demanding $800.

Judge Xaple has dismissed from the superior court the suit of Louis Douglas vs. George B. Swift & Company. In the circuit court Louise Burlage was granted a divorce from George J. Burlage, given the custody of two small children and provided with an allowance of $15 per month to be paid by the defendant for the support of the children. The April term of the circuit court will adjourn Saturday and the court will enter upon the summer vacation, which will continue until the September term begins. ## THEIR KINDNESS REPAID.

Police and Sheriff Helped Penniless Man and He Is Making Good.

Connersville, Ind., June 24.—A stranger, cared for by the police and the sheriff six weeks ago, has repaid the kindness with unusually successful efforts to mend his condition. Leo Halle came to Connersville penniless, friendless and footsore and asked for lodgings in the jail. He was fed and sheltered for two days. Perry D. Ferguson, the sheriff, obtained a place for him on the farm of Charles Moffett, in Harrison township. Halle proved the best farm employee Moffett ever had. Halle's former home was near Columbus. His wife drowned in the flood, more than a year ago, and six children died since. Heart sick and without money or kin, he set out to start his darkened life anew. He is 53 years old.

This is Mrs. Andrew P. Coon, well-known Chicago club worker. She is one of the women who believes thoroughly in suffrage, but does not believe in thrusting it upon others, unless they are ready to receive it. When the question of bringing the suffrage amendment before the last General Federation of Women's clubs came up, Mrs. Coon thought it should not be introduced, fearing some members were not yet converted to it. Mrs. Coon thinks the spread of a principle must be affected through teaching.

URGES ANTIDOTE AS LIFE SAVER

Would Put Tartar Emetic in Poison to Lower Suicides.

New York, June 24.—Dr. William Edward Fitch, editor of Pediatrics is sponsor for the new idea, by which it is contended that the combining of a tartar emetic with the poison tablets when they are sold to the laity will deter persons from taking the tablets and also cause those who take them by accident to vomit and thus save their lives. Dr. Fitch declares that the increase in the use of mercury bichloride as a disinfectant probably accounts for the recent increase in the number of self-inflicted deaths and others which the poison has caused. "To my mind there is only one safe and legitimate way to market bichloride of mercury tablets without putting a hardship on laymen or druggists," writes Dr. Fitch. "I was a member of the commission from New York city that appeared before the Codes Committee at Albany when the bichloride of mercury bill was before the Senate. Easy Solution of Problem.

"I stated then that any legislation which would compel a poor woman who needed bichloride of mercury to pay a physician $1 or $2 for a prescription, would be a distinct hardship. Since that time I have investigated the question from many viewpoints, and as a result of much study I have arrived at what to my mind is a practical, simple and easy solution of the question. "As a result of my investigations and research I propose federal and state legislation to regulate the sale of bichloride of mercury. First.—Limit the sale of the poison in its present form only to physicians for their personal use and to hospitals for institutional purposes. Second.—When sold to the laity bichloride of mercury should be put up in tablet form of seven and three tenths grains of bichloride of mercury, ammonium chloride, seven and seven-tenths grains, and one and one-quarter grains of antimony and tartar emetic will promptly exert its full emetic action on reaching the stomach before the corrosive sublimate can begin to exert its violent, irritant and deeply caustic action. No Drawback to the Idea.

"This combination will in no wise hinder the bactericidal, germicidal, disinfectant or antiseptic action of the bichloride of mercury, but on the other hand the tartar emetic will have a synergistic action.

"The physiological action of the tartar emetic produces prostration, nausea, violent and repeated vomiting and retching, complete evacuation of the stomach contents, with the result of saving human life.

"At the present time there is insufficient legislation to reasonably safeguard the public in connection with the sale of corrosive sublimate—bichloride of mercury. No less than thirty-eight states have enactments purporting to regulate the sale of poison, none of which fills the bill. Several bills have been introduced in Congress and in various State legislatures and the subject has been considered by many boards of health; but as yet no positive safeguard has been offered the public."

Dr. Fitch envisions the co-operation of physicians, publishers, philanthropists, federal and State officials and the public to assist in procuring the necessary legislation which will place the selling of poison tablets on a basis that will positively safeguard the public.

Hammond, Ind., June 23.—A touring car, owned by Paul Lipinski, a Ham-age fifteen, crashed into a curb to avoid striking a boy, and turned a somersault in a business street. Walter Gales, the boy, is probably fatally injured. Two months ago his father, while crossing the same street, was hit by a motor-

WIDOW TELLS OF TRAGEDY

Mrs. W. L. Newport Describes Accident at Swin-
ney Park Bridge.

TWO DEAD; THIRD MAY NOT SURVIVE

Father With Two Children
on Railroad Bridge.

With tears streaming down her cheeks and with a voice choking with terrific sobbing, Mrs. William L. Newport at St. Joseph's hospital Friday morning managed to give the first authentic account of the tragedy of Thursday evening when her husband and son, Lawrence, aged nine, were instantly killed while crossing the Pennsylvania railroad bridge over the St. Mary's river at Swinney park.

Coroner Kruse, after an examination of the bodies of Newport and his son, accused the theory advanced in some quarters that the three were not struck by a train, but leaped from the bridge to avoid it and met fatal injuries in the fall of twenty-nine feet to the rocks at the river's edge below.

"The injuries clearly indicate that they were struck by a train," said Coroner Kruse, and a similar opinion was voiced by Dr. Garret VanSwearingen.

NOBODY ASKED ABOUT HOCKIN

Ironworkers Ignore Comrade as They Go Back to Prison Cells.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 26.—The twelve iron workers convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy" case, who arrived here late last night to begin serving their sentences were put through the routine process of "dressing in" at the United States penitentiary today.

When the men came from the ward where they spent the night, having arrived too late to be assigned to cells, each was given a bath, a shave, a new suit of prison clothes and new prison shoes and their prison life, which began New Year's day a year ago, but was interrupted by their release on bond, started anew.

With the arrival of Eugene A. Clancy, of San Francisco, and Frank J. Higgins, of Boston, the men will take up their old places on the work of constructing bell houses.

While several of the newcomers made inquiries about their comrades who never were released on bond and who had remained in the prison serving their sentences, no information was asked about Herbert S. Hockin, of Detroit, who is looked up as one of the causes of the enforced imprisonment of the labor leaders. The iron workers declared Hockin, by giving information to the government, aided in their conviction.

Hockin, who is acting as a guard at one of the vehicle entrances of the prison, likewise made no inquiries about his former associates.

MUCH COMMENT ON STAND BY WILSON

Firm Utterance on Anti-
Attention.

Washington, June 26.—President Wilson's emphatic declaration of the administration's intention to go straight ahead with its anti-trust program and place these measures on the statute books of the country with the pollution of unparalleled prosperity following attracted widespread attention here today. In congressional circles especially the president's utterances were read with keen interest and occasioned general comment.

While the president's speech was addressed to members of the Virginia Press association, it was meant for the entire nation. It was regarded as perhaps the most important message the president has given to the business world and as his first answer to those who oppose the enactment of the anti-trust program at the present session of congress.

The president spoke in no uncertain terms and made it clear that he was determined to push to a conclusion the trust program. He reviewed the efforts of the administration to carry out other features of its program—the tariff and the currency law—which he said was attacked by a few of business disturbers. He said, however, those measures finally became law and the feeling of uncertainty was relieved.

GO GO TO LIMA TO ACT AS AN ESCORT

Grand Reception in Store for Bishop Alerding This Evening.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Herman J. Alerding will be honored with a notable reception when he reaches the city this evening on his return from his second annual visit to Rome. From the interurban station an immense procession will march, four abreast, east on Main street to Harrison, north on Harrison to Columbia, east on Columbia to Calhoun and south on Calhoun to Library hall, where the formal exercises of the evening will be held.

Bishop Alerding is due in Fort Wayne over the Ohio Electric line at 7:45 o'clock. Some sixty members of the Catholic clergy and laity, representing every congregation of that faith in the city, left at noon today in a special car for Lima to meet the bishop on his arrival from New York, and to act as an escort to this city. It is expected that more than 2,000 members of the Catholic church, besides the children from the parochial schools, will be in the line of march this evening.

GRAND JURY TO HEAR EVIDENCE

Chicago Contractors Will
Blackmail.

Chicago, June 26.—Representatives of the building contractors of Chicago were directed by the district attorney to appear before the federal grand jury with whatever evidence they had that contractors had been systematically blackmailed by agents of the labor unions. John L. McLaughlin, state representative, was expected to be the principal witness on behalf of the contractors.

Without accusing the labor unions, which they say have been defrauded and used as tools by dishonest business agents, the contractors declare that extortion in sums from $500 to $100,000 has played a part in every large construction job in this city in recent years. The demand for federal aid was precipitated by the shooting Wednesday of George Hammond, a union business agent, by Patrick Dignan, a contractor. Dignan surrendered yesterday. He told the police he had been hounded by Hammond and had killed him in a rage.

Labor leaders declare today that the charge, brought by McLaughlin and others were fraudulent. It was a practice of certain contractors, they said, to bribe union agents to tie up other contractors in strikes.

THEY PROPOSE TO KEEP ON FIGHTING

Rebels to Carry Military
Campaign to Finish in Any Event.

Washington, June 26.—The constitutionalists of Mexico are determined to carry their military campaign to a conclusion regardless of participation in informal mediation conferences desired by the United States.

Their plan was indicated here today upon the arrival of Alfredo Brocda, private secretary of General Carranza, first chief of the constitutionalists, who came to confer with Carranza's Washington agents.

Confirmation of the military plans of the revolutionists was learned that General Villa plans to attack San Luis Potosi next week and expects later to fight the federals in their last stand at Queretaro.

WANTED A FUSS MADE OVER HER

South Bend Girl Envises the Publicity Attracted by
Mrs. Anthony.

South Bend, Ind., June 26.—A desire to have the newspapers "make a fuss over her like they do over Mrs. Charles H. Anthony, of Muncie," she of the diamond heels and elaborate wardrobe, was given by a fourteen-year-old girl today as her reason for disappearing from her home here. She decided she was tired of her escapade and made her presence known in Muncie, Ind.

The girl, whose name the police withheld, said she coached her playmates to tell stories of her elopement with several different men as an aid to her scheme to get "some publicity." These conflicting stories caused the police no end of trouble and led them to a question a number of prominent men.

CRACKSMEN AT AVILLA FLEE

Take Flight When Explosions in Postoffice Awaken Entire Town.

THREE ARRESTS AT WATERLOO

Men Get $200 in Stamps But Fail to Reach the Cash
Vault.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Avilla, Ind., June 26.—A gang of cracksmen, supposed to be from five to eight in number, took hurried flight from this place early today when the third explosion of nitro-glycerine which they had used in an attempt to blow the safe in the postoffice here, awakened the entire town and brought scores of people hurrying into the street.

About $200 in postage stamps was secured, but the effort to break the cash vault in the safe was ineffectual. Later three suspects were captured at Waterloo as they were about to board an east-bound freight train. They were lodged in the Auburn jail preparatory to being taken to Fort Wayne for arraignment.

Three Explosions.
Entrance to the postoffice was gained by means of a key which unlocked the door of the building. Three charges of nitro-glycerine were used, and while all were heard by residents of the town, it was not until after the third charge that anybody ventured out. The robbers fled, about, southward along the interurban railroad track, where books of stamps which they had dropped, were found later in the day. The postoffice safe and building were badly wrecked. It was about 1:30 o'clock that the robbery occurred, and telephone operators promptly gave the alarm to all the surrounding towns.

JAPAN GROWING EMPHATIC AGAIN

Demands Relief from Alien
California.

Washington, June 26.—Japan again is demanding in emphatic and uncompromising terms, relief for her subjects from what are called "invidiously discriminatory" effects of the California alien land ownership law. This was revealed today in connection with the simultaneous publication in Washington and Tokyo of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and the Japanese government, extending over a period of more than a year.

The last Japanese communication, dated June 10 last, re-opening the negotiations and asking for an answer to the note handed Secretary Bryan, August 26, 1913, by Viscount Chinda, the ambassador here, were not made public. The reply did not reach Tokyo in time for publication there with the rest of the correspondence, so it was agreed that it should be given out later.

The note of August 26 concluded: "The imperial government claims for them (its subjects) fair and equal treatment and are unable either to acquiesce

WANTED GOOD BOAT TO BE USED FOR DROWNING.

Mishawaka, Ind., June 26.—Have you a good boat to be used for a drowning? inquired William Kline, 24, when he rented a boat to take Miss Lela Hathaway, 28, for a boat ride on the St. Joseph river here last night. They decided one of the boats would do and started off, joking about their life insurance. That was the last seen of them alive.

A few hours later screams were heard on the river and the upturned boat was found. The bodies were recovered. How the accident occurred is not known.

FRAUD CHARGED AT TERRE HAUTE

Organization of Life Assurance Concern Attacked
in Report.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 26.—Charging that the organization of the Great Western Life Assurance Company of Terre Haute had been promoted by fraud, that $31,000 had been paid to one D. P. Roberts as promoter, and that $9,000 of the assets of the company disappeared altogether, the Citizens' Trust company as receiver filed a report in the circuit court today, giving a list of assets that had been turned over to it, which include a number of notes given for stock by local persons. Objection to the approval of the report was made before attorneys who represented claims that had not been approved by the receiver, and final action was postponed until the September term of court.

ROBERTS HELD UNDER BOND.

Charged With False Pretense in Indianapolis Case.
Indianapolis, Ind., June 26.—Daniel P. Roberts, promoter of the Great Western Life Assurance company, the receivers for which made a report in Terre Haute today, is held under $2,000 bond in this city on an indictment which charges he obtained a check from Dr. Frank T. Dowd under false pretenses. Roberts sold Dr. Dowd $325 worth of stock in the Great Western company, for which Dr. Dowd gave a check. Dr. Dowd alleges that the stock is worthless, although he says Roberts represented to him that it would become of great value.

Roberts was arrested about two years ago on a charge of grand larceny growing out of the same transaction. He was convicted in the criminal court and appealed to the supreme court, which recently reversed the lower court on the ground that Roberts was not the proper one. The grand jury then made another investigation and returned the indictment, which resulted in Roberts' arrest again last Monday.

SAYS LORIMER DID NOT KNOW

Anything About the Payment Notes for $40,000
in His Bank.

FORMER SENATOR IN EXPLANATION

Man Who Voted for Lorimer
to Retain Seat Now
Comes Forward.

Frankfort, Ky., June 26.—Former United States Senator Thomas S. Paynter, of Kentucky, has issued a statement explaining how his notes, aggregating $40,000, found their way into the LaSalle street bank of Chicago, controlled by William Lorimer and C. B. Munday, and which item, it was reported, was being investigated by the federal authorities in connection with the inquiry into that institution.

Mr. Paynter, as senator, was a member of the first senatorial committee that investigated Lorimer's election to the senate and he voted in favor of Lorimer's retaining his seat.

"After my connection with the Lorimer committee had ceased," said Mr. Paynter, "I needed $40,000 to complete a business transaction, as I supposed, for a few days. Mr. C. B. Munday told me he could take my four notes for $10,000 each and use them in Illinois banks—banks in which Lorimer had no interest. Mr. Lorimer knew nothing whatever about the transaction. My deal was postponed and I was unable to take care of the demand notes and it seems that Mr. Munday took care of them through the LaSalle street bank. However, every dollar of the notes has been paid, excepting $2,076.45, which will be paid on demand."

SALEM LOSS $10,000,000

Fire Lays Waste Large Section of Historic Massachusetts City.

MORE THAN 1,000
BUILDINGS BURN

Ten Thousand Made Homeless and Relief Work is Under Way.

Salem, Mass., June 26.—The conflagration which laid waste more than a thousand buildings in the historic city of Salem, was burning itself out today in the leveled ruins.

City officials after making a careful compilation of values today figured the total loss at $10,000,000. The burned district followed the lines of a rough semi-circle, three miles in length and varying in width from half a mile to a mile and a half.

Although many persons were injured, only one life was lost. The charred body of a woman, thought to be a Mrs. Cunningham, was found in the ruins of a tenement building on Lafayette street.

Ten Thousand Homeless.
At least ten thousand persons, a fourth of the city's population, were made homeless. Thousands passed last night in the open. Many hundreds were sheltered in schools, churches and public buildings in this city and Beverly.

Before the fire had been fairly checked, relief measures and plans for rebuilding were under way. Governor Walsh,

ATTACK ANOTHER CLAFLIN CONCERN

Goods Company Begin
an Action.

New York, June 26.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed here today against the Defender Dry Goods company of this city, makers of underwear, a subsidiary of the H. B. Claflin company, which failed yesterday. Receivers in equity proceedings were appointed at the time of the Claflin failure, but it was contended that the company was solvent. Creditors now seek to have it adjudged bankrupt. Counsel for the Claflin interests, it is understood, will oppose the petition.

Members of the noteholders' protective committee appointed yesterday to safeguard the interests of banks having some $30,000,000 of Claflin paper, went into session today at the National Bank of Commerce whose president, J. S. Alexander, is chairman of the committee.

A. C. Drew, secretary of the merchandise creditors' committee, estimated today that merchandise creditors have claims of about $2,000,000.

With assurances of co-operation from the leading dry goods firms, jobbing and commission houses and the organization of merchandise creditors and the holders of the firm's paper, John Claflin today began the task of re-organization of the H. B. Claflin company. The impression prevails today in financial circles that the firm will eventually pay 100 cents on the dollar, if creditors allow sufficient time for the company to realize on its assets.

The liabilities of the company are placed at $34,000,000 principally in the form of commercial paper; the assets are placed at $14,000,000 and in addition the personal fortune of John Claflin of $10,000,000 has been pledged by him.

Late Flashes from The Sentinel Wires

Batavia.—Many people were killed or injured today in a violent earthquake which caused widespread damage in southern Sumatra.

Washington.—Private dispatches received at the Pan-American union today reported the death of P. Ezequiel Rojas, minister from Venezuela, at Atlantic City, N. J. He was 70 years of age.

Paris.—Both Jack Johnson, heavy-weight champion of the world, and Frank Moran, challenger for the title, finished training today and each of them declared himself in the best possible condition for their contest tomorrow night.

Terre Haute.—The Root Dry Goods company, a $100,000 corporation of this city and a member of the H. B. Claflin company chain, went into the hands of a receiver. The store will continue in business.

Washington.—Governor Stewart, of Montana, today asked that federal troops be transferred from Fort Vancouver to Fort Missoula, in order to be in readiness in case of further trouble at Butte.

Light on the Light Plant

Mayor Husey has received a communication from parties at Norwalk, Ohio, inquiring "why the Fort Wayne municipal lighting plant is a failure." The mayor will shed a little light upon the matter by showing a few facts to prove the institution to be a great success.

THE WIDE AWAKE STORE

and it with Mr. Newport's watch, pocketbook and clothing were turned over to Coroner E. H. Kruse.

It was found that Mr. Newport's watch had stopped at 9 o'clock, the exact time of the accident. The crystal was broken, and in the front of the case was found a photograph of the little boy who was killed.

Train Running Fast.

The train, known as No. 2, was east-bound and was running on time when it entered the bridge. It is said that it was running at a rate of at least thirty-five miles an hour.

This bridge, which is in two sections, has been the scene of many accidents, and Henry C. Stoll, head of the Pennsylvania police department, has repeatedly warned pedestrians from crossing the structure, especially at night, when the accident hazard is at its greatest. Five years ago two small children playing on the bridge were knocked into the river and instantly killed.

Here Four Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Newport were former residents of Logansport and came to Fort Wayne from that city four years ago last January with Mr. Newport's brothers. Mr. Newport had been with the American Steel Dredge company practically ever since coming to the city. He was a member of the American Insurance Union and his brother states that each member of the family carried life insurance. For the present the widow and her baby will reside at the Underhill home on Phillips street.

Engineer Rhodes' Version.

Engineer Grant Rhodes, who was in charge of the locomotive of the fast train, does not believe that his engine hit the unfortunate victims of the bridge accident.

"For several nights past," said he, "we have run into great swarms of insects, and they have been especially numerous in the lowland region west of Fort Wayne. Last night, as usual, we ran through clouds of these bugs, and when our train pulled in and the locomotive had been taken to the round house I found the front end of the engine completely covered with a coating of these insects. It was then that I was told that we had run into some people on the bridge and knocked them into the river. I don't believe we hit them."

From 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a terrific explosion occurred in the factory of the Korn Leather company, at Proctor and Horton streets, the flames raged practically unchecked until midnight. The explosion is thought to have occurred in highly inflammable chemicals used in the manufacture of patent leather. This factory stood near the foot of Gallows hill, famous as the hanging place of witches in early colonial days, at the western end of the city. A high wind carried the flames through the manufacturing district and thence southward to the heart of the city and across a thickly populated tenement district to the water front.

Coronet in Sight for American Girl

Earl of Euston

New York, June 26.—The coronet of the Duchess of Grafton may be worn by a New York girl as the Earl of Euston whose engagement to Edith Havemeyer has just been announced is heir to the elderly Duke of Grafton. Miss Havemeyer is the daughter of the late Henry Havemeyer the "sugar king" and she will endow her titled husband with millions of American dollars.

Seek Rest on Commons.

On the common and in open spaces in the outskirts of the city thousands of refugees tried to find a little rest during the night. Many stretched themselves out on the grass; others had managed to save mattresses or rocking chairs from their burning homes. Little groups huddled together about piles of household goods. Some of the children were frightened and crying, others bawled the night's adventures as a lark.

From 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a terrific explosion occurred in the factory of the Korn Leather company, at Proctor and Horton streets, the flames raged practically unchecked until midnight. The explosion is thought to have occurred in highly inflammable chemicals used in the manufacture of patent leather. This factory stood near the foot of Gallows hill, famous as the hanging place of witches in early colonial days, at the western end of the city. A high wind carried the flames through the manufacturing district and thence southward to the heart of the city and across a thickly populated tenement district to the water front.

Finest Residences Go.

A shift in the wind sent the fire northward along Lafayette street, where scores of the city's finest residences were burned. The fire spread out to another manufacturing center on the shore of the harbor and destroyed large factories. In the intervening area scores of business houses were swept away. The Salem hospital was among the buildings burned, but all the patients were safely removed.

Great quantities of apparatus from neighboring cities assisted in fighting the flames and finally succeeded in checking their passage southward. To the eastward they burned themselves out at the water's edge. The final stand was made near the Boston and Maine railroad station. Here several buildings were dynamited and the firemen at last gained the upper hand, saving the northeastern part of the city.

A separate fire, which the police say was of incendiary origin, destroyed thirteen dwellings in North Salem and threatened the plant of the Salem Oil company.

HOW TO SPEND $1,000 A WEEK ON YOUR LADY LOVE EASY—IF YOU KNOW HOW.

Mae Sullivan

(By Nikola Greeley-Smith.)

New York, June 26.—Mae E. Sullivan, who testified in her recent suit for breach of promise that the inheritance of the millions accumulated by the invention of the printing press has given her $1,000 a week during period of their engagement, is now drawing the same weekly sum for her appearance at Hammerstein's New York roof garden in a skit called "The Girl With a Hoe."

If I were a vaudeville manager I should not have offered the engagement to Mae Sullivan, but to Mr. Hoe.

For his sworn statements that he gave the girl presents of $3,000 and $4,000 at a time merely because he felt sorry for her marks him as absolutely unique among his sex and kind!

There are other girls in New York who, like Mae Sullivan, know how to induce men to spend $1,000 a week on them—other speckled lilies of the field who toll not, neither spin, yet Solomon, in all his glory, was not arrayed even as they! But I know of no man save Mr. Hoe who would have asked a New York jury to believe that he gave Miss Sullivan $1,000 a week from the motives of pure philanthropy!

Some persons may wonder how it is possible to spend $1,000 weekly—what ever the motive.

On Broadway nothing is easier! In the first place the young ladies who get the money lap up so much champagne—or "chicken soup" as they call it now—that they have to pay ferocious prices to anti-fist specialists to keep them still in the lists of the slender and beautiful.

Mae Sullivan had her "car," of course, and everybody knows that to have a car available at all hours you must keep two chauffeurs! Two chauffeurs mean $50 a week in wages anyhow.

Another worry of young persons of the Sullivan brand is the high cost of gasoline and the cruel exactions of garage owners who require more than a bright smile for the rent and upkeep of the cars they board.

Then there is stupendous item of clothes and lingerie. No "girl with a hoe" thinks of wearing any save the finest handmade underwear and she puts her No. 5 feet in silk stockings at $10 a pair, wears them twice and gives them to her colored maid or lets the show dog chew them up!

Shirtings at $10 to $30 each, negligees at $100 each, evening gowns at anywhere from $50 to $300—you have to wear those moderate-priced frocks!

Why the wonder is not that they can spend $10,000 a week but that they can keep within that sum.

ing state of things is permitted to continue."

It is now disclosed that a new treaty was discussed as a possible way around the difficulties presented by the problem, but that the Japanese government, deciding that an attempt to negotiate a new convention would tend only to create new trouble, proposed to renew the negotiations where they left off last August, and virtually to begin all over again.

"They say I screamed out and called to Will and the babies, but I was so excited that I am unable to remember what I did. I did not know they had been killed until I got to the hospital. The doctor asked me if I objected to letting them operate on Hazel and I replied, 'What does daddy think about it?' Then they told me that Will and my baby boy had been killed."

Father's Body Mutilated.

With his side caved in, a deep gash across his chest and a head laceration in the neighborhood of the groin, Mr. Newport's lifeless body was flung from the river on the south side of the bridge. The son's back was broken, and it is believed that he was instantly killed. His body was found near that of the father, and was recovered from the water with grapple hooks. He was taken in the city ambulance to Hopa hospital and in an effort to revive him the pulmonator was used, but all efforts of the physicians and hospital attendants to bring back life were fruitless, and the body was taken to the Klaehn & Melching morgue. The body of the father was taken to the Ulmer morgue.

The body of the little girl was found near the edge of the water and it is believed that her fractured skull was sustained not by being hit by the train, but in hitting the river bed. She was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital and in an effort to save her life an operation was performed by Dr. C. B. Stamen, Dr. Morgan and Dr. Garrett Van Swearingen. A portion of her skull was removed and it is said that she has a fair chance to recover.

Mother at Daughter's Side.

Although suffering a nervous breakdown from the shock of the accident, the mother remained at the hospital in her daughter's room during the greater portion of the night and early Friday morning she was taken to the home of William Underhill, 1005 Phillips street, where two brothers of her husband, George and Leonard Newport, make their home. After obtaining a little rest during the early part of the morning, Mrs. Newport was told that her daughter had regained consciousness and she hurried back to the hospital.

The bereaved wife and mother declared while at the hospital that she was so shocked by the tragedy that she could scarcely believe the doctors when told that she had lost her husband and son. Even Friday morning she occasionally sobbed out to ask if it was really true and in her excited condition she could hardly realize the terribleness of her loss.

With her husband and children she had presided over a happy and fairly prosperous home. Today she is a widow with only a two-year-old infant to comfort her and she can scarcely hold up under her sudden sorrow, while the strain on her nerves is increased by the seriousness of the daughter's condition.

Police Were Called.

Immediately after the accident a call to police headquarters brought a squad of patrolmen and Detective Walter Imme to the scene of the tragedy and later Captain Kelly and Officers Eisenhut, Brown, Andrews and Fry arrived with a team from No. 1 engine house. The bodies were located by Patrolman Eisenhut and Lieutenant Walda. The little boy's hat was found later by Jacob Miller, of 2003 Ontario street,

National bank, predecessor to the recently defunct LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank, controlled by William Lorimer and C. B. Munday, was shaky three years ago, according to a report made public today by James H. Wilkerson, United States district attorney.

The report was that of a committee appointed by the Chicago Clearing House association in February, 1911, acting on application for admission of the bank to the association. The application was refused because of many dangerous practices and alleged unethical banking. The committee requested the directors of the bank to replace huge sums in doubtful collateral with quick assets and to cease the practice of loaning money to Lorimer and Munday and their enterprises as preliminaries to another application to the Clearing House association.

Mr. Wilkerson said the directors took no such action and a year later the bank surrendered its national charter and, under a state charter, became the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank. A special grand jury to inquire into the affairs of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank will be summoned next week by State's Attorney Hoyne. It was announced today.

Lieutenant Governor Barry and Secretary of State Donahue spent the night here. The governor announced that five thousand tents and ten thousand rations would be sent to the city at once. He also issued a call for a public meeting at the state house in Boston to take further action.

Noted Buildings Escape.

In the midst of the gloom caused by the staggering blow to the city, residents found cause for thankfulness in the fact that the more noted buildings and the museums, with their priceless collections of antiquities, were spared. The birthplace of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the "house of seven gables," and the old custom house, were threatened for a time and the flames approached dangerously close to the Peabody museum and the Essex institute, but none of these structures was damaged.

The companies of militia summoned to assist in maintaining order patrolled the streets today. Martial law was not declared, but no one was permitted to

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 14:11-15.

1 And it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycania, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:

9 The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycania, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:

New Class of 'Phone Service

Despite a good deal of clamorous popular impatience with the telephone company, often well-grounded but quite as often the fault of ourselves or of some other subscriber, the telephone man is after all doing his share in progress-making. An innovation soon to be given a trial at Indianapolis seems to embrace possibilities that appear promising. It is the inauguration of a new class of telephone service to be termed the registered call service. Experience has shown that frequently calls of business importance are lost in offices because of the temporary absence of the persons called, particularly where the answering of the telephone devolves on some one person who can not be at hand at all times.

The plan of the Indianapolis company includes the establishment of a separate department for receiving and registering all such calls for subscribers who desire to avail themselves of this service, and then at the first opportunity these registered calls will be reported to the subscriber. The doctor, the lawyer or the business man who must leave his office can request that the telephone registry department keep a record of the telephone numbers of parties calling him in his absence and on notification from him, after his return, these will be repeated to him. It is proposed to make a charge of $1 a month for this service for offices.

The new schedule also provides for a similar service for residences at 50 cents a month. The residence service will include also the registration of calls made when the line is reported "busy," as often happens when residence lines are occupied with prolonged social talk. Manifestly it would be helpful and often valuable to be supplied with a list of calls or attempted calls made upon your telephone when you chanced to be absent or the instrument in use. The experiment is one which will be watched with interest both by the telephone companies and by subscribers to the service. If it proves to be as advantageous as it promises, we may soon expect to see registered call service in general use.

Applications for license at the office of the secretary of state indicate that automobiles are being sold in Indiana this summer at the rate of one hundred and fifty a day, and that the majority of them are going to the rural districts and the small towns. Thus far 53,511 machines have been licensed in the state this year, while 480 dealers are supply the demand for the autos, and there are 2,250 licensed chauffeurs in the state. Motorcycles listed number 8,597. The figures would seem to indicate that there is little depression, psychological or otherwise, in the automobile business so far as the trade in Indiana is concerned.

Edward H. Schmidt, United States marshal for Indiana, whose resignation was recently requested by Attorney General McReynolds in line with the Jacksonian adage relative to victors and spoils, has informally confided to the attorney general that he will get out very shortly. Under the circumstances we take it that nobody will be inclined to attach blame to Mr. Schmidt on account of his conclusion in the matters.

Governor Ralston's selection of George V. Kell, former senator from Allen county, as the Twelfth district member of the advisory committee to the newly-created state highway commission is an admirable one. Mr. Kell is not only a substantial citizen and one of Allen county's progressive farmers, but his experience and equipment fit him as an invaluable aide to the state commissioners.

The canvass for the new city directory indicates that Fort Wayne now has a population of nearly 83,000, a gain of some 3,244 in inhabitants during the past year. This confirmation of the census department's conclusion that Fort Wayne is the second city in Indiana in point of population, while not actually needed, is comforting, nevertheless.

UNCONSCIOUS CRUELTY TO CHILDREN.

"Perceval, come here this minute; sit down and be still."

"Perceval, stop chasing that cat!"

"Perceval, if you don't make less noise I'll tell father and he'll attend to you!"

And for a whole afternoon it was "Perceval, don't," and "Perceval, do," until tonight we expect "Perceval" will ring in our ears and prevent sleep.

It was in the park that we saw "Perceval" and his well-meaning but nervous mamma. They had gone there presuming that Perceval might have a good time. But if we're any judge of boyhood, Perceval wasn't having it. For he no sooner started to enjoy himself, boy fashion, that the sharp voice of his querulous guardian coiled itself around him like aariat and yanked him into captivity.

Of course Perceval's mamma loved Perceval and thought she was shooting her machine-gun commands at him for Perceval's best interests.

The trouble with that woman was that she had never been a boy herself. Had she been, she would have agreed with the Minnesota man who told the convention of Sunday school teachers in Chicago that a boy is compounded of 50 per cent. play, 40 per cent. fight and only 5 per cent. each of work and religion.

It was easy enough, it was even enjoyable for her to sit still on a park bench and just be passive to the caresses of nature, for she was built that way.

But for a live boy—ugh!

ENEMIES COULD NOT DO WORSE.

Tyrus Cobb is a king of the diamond, all right; but he should try not to let it bust his buttons.

When Ty, the other day, punched the head of a butcher's clerk in Detroit and was nabbed by a cop and escorted to a police station, an upper official made haste to explain that Ty hadn't been arrested, and that the gun found concealed on his lucky person wasn't there in violation of law forbidding ordinary folk to carry concealed weapons, but that Ty had simply been "detained for examination," and that he, long ago, had been given a gun permit.

"It would be bad for the city of Detroit if Cobb had to stay in jail," the police commissioner is quoted as having said. "It would be a civic calamity to keep him out of the game."

But here's what would be a worse calamity—to again convince folks to get it into their minds that the police, the courts and the government are playing favorites.

Tyrus is worth what he gets on the ball field, but he hasn't yet a license to be the town thug.

What is being done to the glorious sport of baseball these days by those who claim to be its friends, and especially by those whose living depends upon its reputation, is enough to make the sphinx groan.

TAKING THE STRANGER IN.

Three years ago, in a certain city, a cabman charged two newly arrived immigrants, ignorant of American talk and ways, $42 to haul them twelve blocks from the railroad station.

Today, in that same city, an official meets each incoming train, approaches the immigrant with a book of instructions in the foreign languages, changes his money for him, directs him where and how to go and sees that he gets started fairly.

That isn't all. The minute the immigrant gets to his destination a sympathetic person calls, sees that his needs are in way of attention and invites him to a school where American ways are explained by instructors who can speak in the immigrant's tongue.

To be sure, this wise change didn't come until the "foreigners" had become the voting majority in that city, making it prudent for foreseeing natives to cultivate their good will.

WILL OPPOSE PLEA WITH AFFIDAVITS

A. E. Melching Prepares to Contest Tale by Welker from Prison Cell.

Returning Thursday night from Indianapolis where he had appeared before the state board of pardons to oppose the plea for pardon by John Welker, under life sentence for the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Minnie Melching, in this city in 1905, Albert E. Melching, father of the slain girl, declared that he will at once procure affidavits to controvert many phases of the version of the killing submitted to the board by Welker. Melching is battling against the release of his daughter's slayer.

The Welker recital, written from his cell in the Michigan City prison, was presented in dramatic form before the board, and during its reading Mr. Melching, highly wrought up by his emotions, dashed from the room and paced up and down the state house corridor until he was able to compose himself.

Presented by Thomas.

Welker's story of thwarted love was read to the board by Attorney Albert E. Thomas, of this city, who said it was written by Welker in his cell and was told for the first time, as the prisoner had not taken the stand in his own defense.

"Come shoot me through the heart you love, and then shoot yourself," the girl whispered to Welker just before the tragedy, according to his story. She told him, he said, that she had written a note that they must die together. Welker had planned to go to Chicago, get work and send for the girl, he said, and this made her desperate as she feared she would lose him.

"In a flash," the convict's confession continued, "she had my gun out of my pocket and, as I grabbed it, it went off. Minnie screamed (Oh, imagine my state of mind if you can). I realized I was in for it; I aimed to shoot her through the heart (the heart that God knows I loved with all my heart and soul). I shot her several times, she became limp in my arms. I let her to the floor and then aimed to shoot my brains out. I dropped to the floor, but was still conscious. I repeatedly pulled the trigger, put the barrel of the gun against my temple, but there was no response. I then took my knife and endeavored to finish myself by cutting my throat. I lost consciousness."

Melching and Thomas Clash.

The father, after becoming composed, appeared before the board and plauded that his daughter's slayer be kept in prison. He declared that the alleged "confession" was drawn by "some one" other than the prisoner.

"Do you mean to say," interrupted Thomas, "that I had anything to do with such a thing as that? You are a positive prevaricator—prevaricator of the worst type." Chairman Thomas of the board interfered and quieted the couple and Melching continued. He said the wound in the heart of the girl's parents, relatives and friends was still too raw for him to do other than contest the case.

"No father would have taken what I took," he said. "Another man would have stamped the cur to death where he lay on the floor. My daughter went into her grave with finger prints on her throat and her spiritual confessor has so testified."

The latter statement was denied by Thomas, who said there was nothing in the evidence introduced at Welker's trial to substantiate it. The board took the case under advisement.

OPINION ON FULL CREW LAW.

Honan Does Not Think Receiver Can Be Criminally Prosecuted.

Indianapolis, June 26.—Thomas M. Honan, attorney general, has given an opinion to the public service commission in which he said he believed that the receiver of a railroad, under the existing Indiana statutes, can not be criminally prosecuted because of violation of the full crew law by the railroad he is operating as a receiver. The opinion is far-reaching in effect.

The attorney general, admitting that the full crew law in Indiana is a criminal statute, said the statute does not apply in terms to any officers, agent or employee of a railroad or to a receiver, but applies only to the company. A rule of construction of criminal statutes in Indiana has always been that no person can be prosecuted under such statutes unless he falls within the words of the statute and also the spirit of the law, Mr. Honan said.

Chairman Duncan said the opinion from Honan had been asked after affidavits had been filed against the Wabash railroad at Logansport, charging violation of the full crew law. The Wabash is in the hands of a receiver.

Frank Hausbaugh, son of Nicholas Hausbaugh, the blind pencil vendor, suffered severe burns about his hands Thursday evening in attempting to turn on the lights in the Swinney park pavilion, where his father was giving an ice cream social. The boy was knocked to the ground and for a few moments was unconscious.

MINER HELD AS CHECK ARTIST

Police Believe They Have Practiced Criminal in C. A. Butcher.

Charles A. Butcher, who says he has been a miner in the west, and who has been stalling around Fort Wayne for some time as a detective of the tin star brand, was charged in the city court Friday morning with uttering a fraudulent check and was put under $4,000 bond for the continuance of his case until June 30. Other charges will be preferred meanwhile.

Butcher, who was arrested Thursday night by Detective Sergeant Martin J. Russell and Joseph Brennan, the police believe they have made an important capture. He claims to have simple means in Colorado banks to get himself through and while being taken to jail said he wanted to write for money to put up a bond. Butcher's speech offered him in having given the Jukes Clothing company a check for $30 in payment for merchandise. The check was drawn on the Citizens Trust company, where Butcher has funds for which he holds a certificate of deposit in the sum of $450. This certificate, however, has the usual thirty day reservation and could not be checked against. Back of the incident of Butcher's bank account is a story that relates to another crime. Butcher deposited in the Citizens Trust company a certificate of deposit on a $10,000 bill, bank, and it has since been learned that this certificate was stolen from an old soldier in Chicago. Whether or not Butcher was the thief is not yet ascertained. The police now suspect Butcher is the man who stole a number of worthless checks from downtown business houses several weeks ago, cleaned up a considerable sum and then faded away.

Butcher's arrest was upon a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a girl in this city. She is said to be under the age of 16 years, and to have been employed by Butcher as a "lady detective" to work with him and "his men." In company of Butcher the girl went about a month ago to take her new position. At Fort Wayne Butcher told her they would have to change cars and would have to remain over night. Butcher took her to a hotel and kept her over Sunday, sending her back to Fort Wayne with the statement that he would soon return. It is said the girl's ruin was accomplished on this trip. Her parents consulted about the crime against her, and she was made to turn to procure the prosecution of Butcher there for criminal assault. The Miami county authorities are said to have refused to act because they did not want the hotel where the crime was committed to "get in bad." Butcher returned to Fort Wayne several days ago and the father of the girl saw him on the street Thursday and notified the police and the arrest followed. It was expected to prosecute him on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a child, but following his arrest, Butcher's operations with checks turned up.

Who arranged in the city court he demanded a change of venue and declined to believe either Judge Kerr or Prosecutor Callahan when told that a change of venue from the city court was impossible.

"I know all about law; you can't fool me, I demand a change of venue, and I'm going to have this case tried before Judge Russell," said the defiant Butcher. The statutes were read to him and he subsided after announcing that he would soon have money from Colorado banks to effect his release.

Lady Bluffer Disappears. Kate Phillips and Harry Brunner did not respond when their names were called in the city court to answer to charges of disorderly conduct and their cash bonds of $25 each were neatly wiped out by a fine of $20 and costs. Miss Phillips caused some excitement upon her entrance from Washington, Thursday night, by firing three shots from a revolver loaded with blank cartridges at Brunner, whom she had caught while with another woman. The "other woman" name, however, made a rapid getaway when the shots were fired and Brunner and Miss Phillips fled south and were arrested by Detectives Russell and Brennan at Purdue street and Dawson streets. Then the lady told her story to the officers. She was from Toledo, where Brunner was her lover. He ran away from her and she pursued him. The shots were fired as a bluff to give him a scare and frighten his other girl away. In both instances she succeeded and it is supposed she has Brunner back safe in Toledo.

Other City Court Cases. Fred Koerber and Miss Minnie Robbins were arraigned on charges of living in adultery in a house on Masterson avenue. Koerber was sent to jail in default of $100 bond and the woman released on her own recognizance upon continuance of the case to July 3. The woman came here from Huntington, where her husband, H. Robbins, is a railroad man. Koerber has been staying with her for some time in the Masterson avenue place. She has four children, one of them a girl living in the same house. Koerber does nothing but loaf around the house save when he is running the beer can, which he said he does a dozen or so times a day. The child of the place is such as cannot be described, and the house is attended from Chief of Police Lenk. Eugene Garrison, Interior, was put under $100 bond for his appearance June 29, and James McGinn, arrested for petit larceny, and held over from Wednesday, was turned loose.

HEAT DOES NOT AFFECT CROWDS

Carnival Throngs Continue Large and the Shows Best Ever Here.

The extremely hot weather seems to keep nobody away from the carnival. After a good dinner and a freshening up the average person apparently thinks that the festival is a good place to forget the temperature and the crowds increase nightly due, in a large degree, to the favorable advertising done by those who first investigated the attractions. The curious sometimes wonder how the carnival people themselves like hot weather. How does a duck like water? How does a boy like jam? The hotter the weather the broader the smiles of the attendants at the show. Hot weather means big crowds, good times, satisfied visitors.
There is nothing that the tattooed man, for instance, likes better. He recalled to a reporter the one cold week encountered this season when he abandoned his bath robe for as short periods as possible and envied the little Aztec women their olive over which they bent as in devotion.

The Borneans are used to warm weather, but they say their native island never gets uncomfortable. If it did the peculiar style of hair dressing they affect would probably have ceased to be a fashion there long ago. The Igorrote, in the same pit, is content with life. It is pretty much like home to him for the heat waves that rise above the grass huts in his native hills are so blue they fairly smoke. He does not say all this in English, however; he merely laughs when the Anglo-Saxon watching him plays a fan with tireless vigor.

The little Aztec women are warm, there's no denying that. Yucatan is almost on the equator, but the nights are chill from the west winds that cross the adjoining states. The armless artist is warm, too, but in a sunny comfortable way. What is Indiana after Jamaica? Lala Coala is an unchanging institution, the show folks say, unaffected by any change in temperature, immune to the ills that fret everybody else.

The man-fish! Ah, there is luxury. The man-fish stays in water most of the day and is easily the happiest person in

All the Hindoo magician, has no control over the weather. If he could shake his queer rattle and say magic that would change the temperature he would. He says that just because a man was born in India and served in the English army in Egypt is no sign he has to love to be roasted.

And the choruses hate hot weather, but weeks and weeks of it each season hardens anyone in time. They talk about the lakes and bribe the tent men to get them countless lemonades and let it go at that. May Harris doesn't like it either, but she is philosophical and says its no use fretting, because if she did that she might be caught napping and that would never do for the champion woman wrestler in the world.

As for the crowds. They seem to like it, as said before. Its wonderful what good dispositions people have under continued strain.

Crown the Queen Tonight.
Miss Hazel White, elected queen of the carnival Wednesday night, will be crowned with due ceremony at 8:30 to-night in the big Anglo-Saxon animal show on the carnival grounds. The event was postponed from last night in order that better arrangements might be made than were possible on so short notice. Miss White will receive her crown and the $175 solitaire ring given as first prize. Miss Clara Dingman will receive the $60 diamond-studded gold watch and Miss Rose Swetz the $40 diamond set in valiere. The event is expected to be a ceremonious affair.

GEN. WHISTLER DIES.

Retired Army Officer Was Inventor of Smokeless Powder.

600 BARRELS NAPHTHA BURN.

Oil Dropping in Heavy Spray Causes Tank Fire at Whiting.

Hammond, Ind., June 26.—What is said to be static electricity, caused by oil dropping in a heavy spray at the Standard Oil works in Whiting, ignited six hundred barrels of naphtha. The fire burned all day, covering the city with a pall of heavy smoke.

Hard work by the Standard and city fire departments saved neighboring towns valued at $1,000,000.

Dr. C. F. Barnett has returned from a lengthy trip through the seven states, and at Atlantic City he attended the annual convention of the American Medical association.

Called to the Colors.

Summons to Greek Naval Reserves Has Significant Look.

Athens, Greece, June 26.—Seven classes of the Greek naval reserves were today called to the colors, the official explanation of the mobilization being "the increase of the fleet and the naval maneuvers to begin next week."

The real reason of the step taken by the ministry of marine, however, is understood to be the determination of the Greek government to be prepared for all eventualities, although there is an apparent slackening of the tension between Turkey and Greece.

DUKE OF AOSTA VERY ILL.

Italian Nobleman Suffers Typhoid From Eating Infected Oysters.

Naples, Italy, June 26.—The duke of Aosta, eldest cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, caused by eating infected oysters. The duke, who is a lieutenant general in the Italian army, is 45 years old.

Miss Marian Bash and brother, who have issued invitations to a party they will give at the Bash farm on Tuesday evening. The invitations state the party will be an "old time" affair.

An elegant affair was the family dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. T. DeWald at their home on Thursday evening, in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. The guests were all relatives of Mr. and Mrs. DeWald. The house was very beautifully decorated with white roses, some of the flowers being gifts from away. The dinner was served on one long table which was handsomely appointed and decorated with white roses. In the center of the table was an immense cake with an inscription in silver set in the frosting which was elaborate in design. The cake was a gift from the Sisters of St. Vincent's Orphans' home. Mrs. Schumaker catered for the dinner.

BRIDE AND GROOM HAVE HOME WEDDING.

MRS. FRANKLIN KELLER.

A beautiful home wedding of two popular young people took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. H. Baxter, of 1565 Oakland street, at 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon in the marriage of their daughter, Myrtle, to Mr. Franklin Keller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Keller, of Elm street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. O. Shirey, pastor of Bethany church. Relatives and friends to the number of two hundred and thirty and forty assembled at the appointed hour to attend the wedding. While Miss Gertrude Seely played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" the bride came down the vine-wreathed stairway and met the groom and minister in an archway between the rooms, which was also festooned with smilax and pink and white carnations. The bride, who is a fine looking young woman of a blonde type, looked quite lovely in a beautiful white crepe de melle made with silk shadow lace and pearl beads and the finishing touch was her shower bouquet of bride roses and swansonia tied with tulle ribbon. There were no attendants.

ors, pink and white roses decorated the small tables at which the children sat for supper. Many merry games were played and the children spent a happy afternoon.

A birthday surprise party that afforded much enjoyment to Mrs. C. E. Vandiver, of 816 East Creighton avenue, and the company of relatives and friends who attended it, including Mrs. J. M. Cochran, who planned the affair, took place on Tuesday evening. In the playing of games prizes were won by Mrs. J. M. Cochran, G. A. Boyer. Gifts for Mrs. Vandiver were presented to her by Mrs. Eva Boyer. Refreshing things to eat and drink were served. Among the guests invited were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cochran and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Boyer, Mrs. Eva Boyer and sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cochran and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christman, son and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Vandiver and family.

Meier-Kress.

A pretty wedding event of the week was that for which Miss Eva Kress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Kress, of 419 Hoffman street, was the bride and Mr. A. W. Meier, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Meier, of 1517 Franklin street, was the groom. The wedding took place in Precious Blood church at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, with Rev. C. Hummer officiating at the nuptial mass. After the wedding service and mass the bridal party went to the bride's home, where the breakfast was served. The bride was attended by two sisters, Miss Eleonora Kress, who was bridesmaid, and Miss Hattie Kress, who came home from Chicago, where she has been for several months, to act as flower girl. A brother of the bride, Martin Kress, was best man, and Messrs. Fabian Kress, Louis Baker and George Diek were ushers. The bride wore a combination of silk shadow lace and net, and she wore a veil and held a shower bouquet of bride roses and swansonia. The bride also wore a pearl head necklace, a gift of the groom. A wreath of swansonia blossoms held the veil to her hair. The bridesmaid wore a beautiful gown of blue crepe and a hat trimmed with pink roses and forget-me-nots. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The flower maid was prettily dressed in white and she carried a dainty basket of pink and white sweethearts and roses. An elegant dinner was served to forty guests. The bride's table was done in smilax and roses with a bride's cake handsomely frosted, which the bride cut. Ferns and flowers decorated the room beautifully. During the afternoon the bride and groom left for Chicago and a lake trip and expect to be gone three weeks. When Mr. and Mrs. Meier return they will find a home already furnished and awaiting them in Hoffman street. The bride is a sweet and pretty young woman of beautiful disposition. Mr. Meier is a fireman for the Pennsylvania and not only has many friends, but is held in high esteem.

Noble-Rohman.

Miss Elsie Frances Rohman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rohman, and Mr. Alva E. Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Noble, of Columbia City, were married at the home of the bride, in East Creighton avenue, on Thursday noon by Rev. Mr. Hunter, of Columbia City, a family friend of the groom. Mrs. Hunter presided at the piano during the wedding service. The bride was attended by her twin sisters, Miss Ogretta Rohman, who was honor maid, and Miss Marguerite, who was bridesmaid, while Mr. Robert Kinney, of Chicago, was the groomsmen. Very effective decorations of palms, ferns and many flowers of the season made a pretty setting for the bride. The bride's gown was fashioned of white crepe de

GIRL CALLS IT A MENACE TO HEALTH

Miss Ford, Therefore Has Declared War on "Salamander Shape."

Bend the knees, throw the weight entirely on one foot, allowing the other to drag gracefully, let the arms hang loose from the shoulders, bend back from the hips and thrust the chin forward and you have the "salamander shape."

Typical of the tango and become-

ing to the latest of gowns, the "salamander shape" has taken Los Angeles by storm.

Miss Ford claims that as it is unnatural and purely affected, it is not beautiful and that, with the closely draped and slashed skirts, it is not only immodest, but indecent.

Her contention that it is unhealthy is backed by no less an authority than Dr. C. A. L. Reed, former president of the American Medical association. Dr. Reed claims that the "passing slouch of 1914" may cause curvature of the spine, deformed pelvis, flat foot and deformed shoulders, the latter resulting in an undeveloped chest.

How's that for a danger signal?

"Los Angeles girls, to be in fashion," said Miss Ford, "have adopted the 'salamander shape.' To me, and I believe to every other girl who has an ounce of reasoning, it is the climax of all unnatural fads which style decrees upon us. I agree with Dr. Reed. I believe the unnatural pose should be tabooed."

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

When relief from rheumatic pains may be had at so small a cost it is surprising that anyone should fail to avail himself of it. Joseph Capparelli, Canastota, N. One application relieved him wonderfully, and a few days' treatment effected a cure. Many others have found quick relief by applying this liniment. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

BEES FOR TIME OWNED A STREET

They Blockade Traffic in Cincinnati and Stop Business.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 26.—Sycamore street, in the vicinity of Sixth street, was practically deserted, because of a swarm of bees which, after attempting to establish a colony at St. Xavier's college, were routed by students there and made things miserable for pedestrians, school children and factory employees in the vicinity. Business was practically at a standstill until the bees could be gathered into a box and taken away.

Conductors and motormen on the pay-as-you-enter cars which operate on Sycamore street had the laugh on their comrades who man open summer conveyances, although some of them got stung before the lesson was learned. Teamsters made but one attempt to reach the intersection of Seventh street and Sycamore, long detours being the order of the day after the first try-out. Pedestrians got wise on the way home and business men along Sycamore street used the back entrances in going to and fro.

The bees under the leadership of their queen took the liberty of swarming on one of the windows of the third floor of St. Xavier college. On that day some one discovered them and proceeded to route them with water. The bees attacked a car and forced the passengers and crew to take flight.

Fred Ducker, with his son, Irwin, with a common old shoe box as a trap, gathered in all of the bees without any trouble, the youngster handling the bigger part of the job. With the departure of the bees, peace again reigned on Sycamore street.

While this was going on, Corporal Sterly and Officer Summors were on their way to police headquarters, limping painfully, but happy. They carried a large box in which they had as prisoners a queen bee and her swarm that had descended upon the occupants of a basement at Canal and Vine streets. Both officers showed swollen parts of their body as proof of the stings received. Before the officers succeeded in gathering in this second swarm, the bees had invaded a restaurant and caused the diners to flee in terror.

IF SKIN ITCHES AND BREAKS OUT APPLY SULPHUR

For years, common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections, by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticide, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin.

The moment you apply it to an itching or broken out skin the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist. Just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt and remarkable results, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which should be applied to the irritated or inflamed parts, like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the eruption is accompanied with itching. -Adv.

South Comes Into Gold Medal Hunt With Regular Whale of a Fat Man

W. T. Brinson, 585-Pound Georgian, is a Farmer, and His Only Fault With Life is That He Has But One Vote—Turns Down Offers from Circuses.

Waycross, Ga., June 26. Georgia, always supreme in big men, big cotton crops, watermelons, peaches and hand-some girls is now raising high above all competitors—and it's some lift the biggest man in the United States.

He is W. T. Brinson, a thriving and active turpentine distiller of Waycross. He has been stimulated into unusual activity of late by the reports in the news of various people who claim to be the champion fat man.

"Why, that John Busch, out in California," he exclaims, "and the little Irwin fellow up in Michigan. They ain't nothing but little punts. The whole two of them could get behind me and hide." Brinson causes irreparable damage to all ordinary scales, but when a coal wagon scale, or something strong enough for him, is used, he makes it jump to the 500-pound mark.

This puts him practically a full hundred pounds ahead of his nearest competitor in the champion fat man contest. Brinson is rather blue these days, because he's losing flesh from overwork. Fifteen years ago he weighed a comfortable six hundred pounds, but he's lost full fifteen pounds since then, and complains dismally that he's worn to a shadow.

Brinson is a shrewd and successful farmer, merchant and turpentine operator. He drives daily to his work in his specially constructed vehicle his buggy he calls it. But it is a marvellous thing to behold, and resembles more nearly an army wagon.

When he goes visiting his host never says to him, "Have a chair." That is, if the man is careful of his furniture. Instead he says, "Won't you have several chairs? Take a lot of them." And Brinson never sits on less than two, except at home, where he has an enormous rocking chair, of cantilever construction, which has to be moved about with a derrick.

Brinson is a keen politician and an ardent admirer of the littlest man in

W. T. Brinson

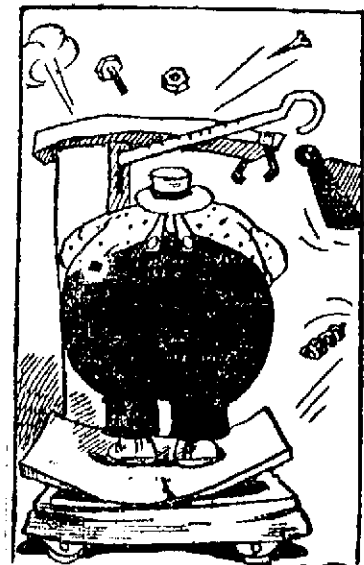

Georgia, ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown. He votes for Brown on every possible occasion—and as often as possible.

"But," he complained mournfully, "I can't vote as many times as most good Georgians, because my size makes me a mark for the election judges!"

SAFE LOCK GOES WRONG.

Trust Company, However, Does Business on a Big Scale.

Lebanon, Ind., June 26.—When the Citizens' Loan and Trust company opened its doors for business yesterday, it had only $200 in cash available. Sufficient deposits were made during the day to meet not only all demands, but also to leave a surplus of $500 at the close. In the vault was $400,000 in securities and $10,000 in cash, but the trust company officials could not touch it. The time lock could not be opened, and after working on the door several hours a lock expert from Indianapolis said that the only way remaining to get into the vault was from the top. The top coating of cement will have to be removed, as also a part of the steel plate lining large enough to permit a man to enter.

LATEST INVENTION.

To prove to Mary Boyle O'Reilly the practicability of the flying train, the inventor hoisted a five-year-old boy on the model and turned on the current. As the photograph shows, the miniature flying train immediately arose and held the child in the air by the power of electric waves alone.

(By Mary Boyle O'Reilly.)

London, June 26.—It is only a question of time when we shall be traveling 300 miles an hour—possibly more. The flying train of the future already exists in little. This miracle of science will, it is confidently declared, carry mails, merchandise and ultimately passengers at the rate of 7,200 miles a day.

I have just come from talking with Bachelet, the inventor, a Frenchman long resident in the United States. A quiet, scholarly man, with no trace of cockiness about him, he received me in a long, low room nearly filled with the model of the new railway. The "train" is a steel car weighing forty-five pounds. When the current is turned on it is lifted bodily and fairly flies. Bachelet, dispassionate about his levitated railway, is loathe to speak of himself.

"I was born in France. Orphaned at 14, I went to Paris. Followed six lean years. Desperate, I emigrated to the United States. In Boston I became janitor of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Always eager to learn the 'tech' professors were equally willing to teach me.

My only capital was the miscellaneous electrical knowledge picked up as janitor of a technical school. I looked about for something to invent, something of general necessity—greatly desired. The idea was not far to seek. Speed is today the great desideratum. The world wants always more and more speed and is willing to pay for it.

"One day, experimenting with an electrical appliance designed for use in electric cases repelled certain asthma cases, I discovered that certain blood cells while certain other attracted them. The conclusion was obvious.

"Why should not electric waves repel metal to such an extent as to force it up in the air and keep it there by a force sufficient to counteract the attraction of gravitation?

"I experimented further and found that the waves would do this. Remained only the problem of propulsion. Air resistance is an enormous factor where high speed is concerned. Current sufficient to propel 300 miles a minute will cost about one cent for every pound conveyed.

has come to stay. Passengers may not fly through space for some time to come. But the conveyance of mails and merchandise at 300 miles an hour—ten hours from London to New York—will soon revolutionize the commerce and the industry of the world."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Ad.

Mrs. Ethel DeWitt is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cummins.

John Ringenberg, a farmer living southeast of town, suffered a broken arm Wednesday, caused by a runaway

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WOMAN RUNS SNUFF FACTORY. Only Plant of the Kind in 79 Counties is Situated at South Bend.

South Bend, Ind., June 2.—This city has an unique industry which, according to Peter J. Krayer, United States revenue collector, was one of the reasons for bringing the revenue office to South Bend. The only snuff manufacturing firm in the seventy-nine counties which comprise the seventh revenue district is situated here. It is one of the few industries of the kind in the United States. The local snuff factory is run entirely by a woman, Mrs. A. Soderberg. Her husband, an employee of a local factory, had been a user of snuff for many years, and finally Mrs. Soderberg decided to begin its manufacture, although she despises the drug. The gross annual business of the concern today is $16,000, of which $2,000 must be paid to the government in taxes.

Just What She Needed. There is an old saying that "There is a remedy for every ill." It is sometimes years before you find the remedy exactly suited to your case. Mrs. Rachael Gribble, Beaver Dam, Ohio, was sick for two years with stomach trouble and constipation. She writes, "My neighbors spoke so enthusiastically of Chamberlain's Tablets that I procured a bottle of them. A few days' treatment convinced me that they were just what I needed. I continued to use them for several weeks and they cured me." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

IS THE GAS SAVER OF THE CENTURY.
 You wouldn't think of using tin cooking utensils, would you? Nor a plain, uncleanable, ordinary lined refrigerator? You want the enameled sort.

This is an age of white enamel; it is a sanitary age, and the only gas range that will meet your sanitary requirement is "Buck's," the Gas Range with the cast-iron, non-rustable, white enamel lined oven. Its linings are always snowy white, easily removed and readily cleaned.

Why not then a "Buck's" sanitary gas range; one that you know will always make and always bake your food perfectly wholesome? It's BEST for you and BEST for LOW GAS BILLS.

Vacuum High Speed Washer

THE THREE REASONS WHY QUICKEST. Because the quick action of the agitator drives the hot soap suds through the soiled clothes so forcibly that the dirt responds at once—three to five minutes will remove the dirt from any clothing that soap and water will clean.

EASIEST. It runs easier than any other machine because it works on the vacuum principle and requires only power to handle the water—not the clothing. This means no wear whatever to the clothing, as no rubbing is necessary. Easy on the clothes. Easiest to operate.

CLEANEST. Because it takes the dirt all out instead of rubbing a part of it into the cloth, as the rubbing process machine, or the old washboard, does.

WHY YOU SHOULD USE A "BIG THREE"
 The "BIG THREE" will wash the most delicate fabrics, lace curtains, shirt waists, etc., without the possibility of injury. It will wash blankets, carpets and heavy clothing equally as well, because the water is forced through the cloth, carrying the dirt with it. It will pay for itself twice every year by the saving in clothing. At least half the wear on clothing washed on a board, with the per washers or any other rubbing process, has been in getting them clean. The "BIG THREE" cleans without rubbing and uses only about one-fourth the power required to operate others. Made also for Electric and Water Power.

 With An "Indiana Refrigerator"

She walked miles and thought she was getting paid for it until she stopped to figure out. Then she found she had been walking and paying, too. She spent her time, her energy, her temper, and her food because she thought she was saving money.

You can't keep food in a sanitary condition this hot weather unless you have a modern refrigerator.

The INDIANA is a modern ICE-MAKING, FOOD-MAKING Refrigerator and pays its own way in the saving of ice and foodstuff. Every home should have one of these modern, up-to-date Indiana Refrigerators.

TELLS OF LIFE AT FORTY BELOW

Ensign With Expedition of Crocker Tells of Greenland.

ALL DAYS ARE ALIKE

New York, June 26.—"This is the life." Summed up in four words, this is the stamp of approval placed on life in the Arctic regions by Fitzhugh Green, ensign, U. S. N., a member of the Crocker land expedition of the American Museum of Natural History.

Green's letter was one of a number brought to Copenhagen from Greenland by Knud Rasmussen, the explorer. It was as follows: "Hot and Cold Water in Greenland. "Dear Father: I have just written mother telling her we are happy and well. Our house is a howling success. It is electric lighted and we have hot and cold water on tap. We eat two meals a day, at 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. We haven't seen the sun since October (letter was written on January 11) but the horrors of an Arctic night are all right. Simply because you are having such a good time at other occupations that you have no time to think of home except now and then.

I am having a lot of new clothes made for the spring trip. The dash to Crocker Land will be a hard pull, but I do not think that we will fail. Do not think that I am careless. The cold is different than the cold at home. It is not to be feared so much as other things. Wind at 40 degrees below zero—real wind, that roars like an express train coming through a tunnel—is hell. It doesn't pierce the skin clothes that we have, but it seems to get in under them in a fiendish way that can not be imagined.

Happy Life—Hard to Keep Straight.

"We work in the mornings. I usually walk in the afternoon. After dinner we study, play chess or read. It is a happy life. The nights and days are all alike and sometimes it is hard to keep straight, as it is always night.

I sleep in a snow igloo that has been built for me outside the house. Mac does the same. The bunk is pretty snugly compared to the outside air. "I could write all night about things, but will tell you some day. All I have to say is that I hope the ship gets wrecked on her way up to take us back so that we can stay another year. ## IN THE CHURCHES

PLAN FOR PARTY.

Associated Christian Workers Will Enjoy a Trolley or Bus Ride.

The social committee, Emil Koenig, chairman, of the Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne, at a recent meeting made plans for a party to be given for the members of the association. This party will either be a trolley or an automobile bus ride terminating at some place where a social time will be enjoyed. It is thought, however, that trolley cars will be secured and that a ride will be given from the traction terminal to Robinson park and back and then out to the country orphan's home on South Broadway, where a social time will be held. This affair will be given some evening during the first part of August.

Interesting Program Arranged.

An interesting program has been arranged by the committee on sports for the annual picnic to be given Saturday by the Southside Baptist Sunday school and congregation at Robinson park. The members of the Sunday school will gather at the church at 10 o'clock, where a special car will take them direct to the park. A large dinner will be spread at 12:30. A juvenile committee will take charge of the children.

Rural Church Activities.

Taylor Chapel Methodist Sunday school on the Mayville road will observe children's day with an interesting program Sunday evening. Mr. Albert Lantz, the superintendent, will be in charge of this program.

The trustees of the Union Chapel south of the city have arranged for an ice cream social to be given on the church lawn Saturday evening.

To Celebrate Children's Day.

The Sunday school of the Missionary church will render a brief children's day program in the chapel of the Bible Training school Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Following the rendering of the program an outing will be enjoyed by all. All members of the school and parents of the children are expected to be present.

To Observe Mission Feast.

The Evangelical Lutheran Bethlehem church, W. Schust, pastor, in Washington township, will celebrate its annual mission feast next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. A. Ficken, of Olympia, Wash., will be the principal speaker of the day, and it is thought a large audience will be present to greet him.

THE DEATHS.

HOSLER.

John Hosler, aged 87 years and a resident of Allen county since 1844, died Thursday afternoon at his home one mile west of Leo. His death was due to the infirmities of age and followed a prolonged illness.

Mr. Hosler was born December 3, 1827, and came to northern Indiana in August, 1844, locating first in DeKalb county. He was married March 28, 1852, to Miss Marie Palmer, who, with eight children, survives him. #### MENTONE MAN DIES.

Mentone, Ind., June 26.—Allen Bybee died at his home here, aged 77 years, following an illness of about a year and a half. The death of Mr. Bybee was due to a physical breakdown, as he had begun to fail rapidly in health several months ago. He was prominent in business affairs in Mentone and was a stockholder in the Farmers' bank. He was also engaged in agricultural pursuits and stock raising.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

BOY LOSES FOOT IN MOWER.

Warsaw, Ind., June 26.—Ford Gilbert, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claven Gilbert, who reside northeast of this city, was the victim of an accident which will probably cost him the loss of a foot. The father was engaged in mowing hay in a field near the house and the boy, at the time the accident occurred, was driving chickens from the path of the mower. In so doing he placed himself directly in the path of the machine and the father, whose attention was directed elsewhere, failed to notice the little fellow until it was too late. The left leg was almost severed just above the ankle. The ankle bones were also badly cut in the accident.

FALLS FROM MOVING TRAIN.

Hartford City, Ind., June 26.—L. C. Stevens, mail clerk on the Pennsylvania passenger train due here at 6:13, fell from a mail car near Renner station, five miles west of this city, while the train was running at full speed. He escaped serious injuries. Other members of the crew did not know that he was missing until the train reached Millgrove, six miles east of Hartford City. Stevens was found by the telegraph operator at Renner and an engine sent from here brought him to this city. His face was badly scraped and he suffered three deep wounds in his head. He does not know how the accident occurred.

YOUNG SWIMMER HURT.

Warsaw, Ind., June 26.—Roy Spear was painfully injured while swimming at Roy City, Winona Lake. Spear was attending the Methodist Sunday school picnic and had gone in bathing with a number of companions. He was diving off the platform at Roy City and at this point the water is comparatively shallow for diving. As a result he struck the bottom, dislocating his shoulder. At first it was thought the injury was of a more serious nature and word was sent to the city to rush a physician to the scene with all possible haste.

ROANOKE MINISTER RESIGNS.

Roanoke, Ind., June 26.—Coming as a distinct surprise, Rev. Sanford McDonald, pastor of the Methodist church in Roanoke, tendered his resignation to the board of trustees, at a called meeting of the board. At the urgent request of Rev. McDonald the resignation was accepted to take effect immediately. It is probable that Rev. McDonald will ask that he be transferred to the Michigan conference, as he is formerly from that state. No statement would be given by the pastor as to the reasons that prompted his resignation. Rev. McDonald came to Roanoke not quite a year ago to fill the unexpired term of Rev. Booth, who also resigned.

WARSAW SCHOOL HEAD RESIGNS.

Warsaw, Ind., June 26.—Prof. C. A. Fisher, principal of the Warsaw high school, has tendered his resignation to the city school board and it has been accepted. Prof. Fisher has accepted a position as superintendent of the high school at Benton Harbor, Mich., and has moved his household goods to that place. Prof. Fisher and family will spend the summer with relatives at Huntington. The people of Warsaw will learn with regret of the loss of Mr. Fisher. During his short stay in the city he made many friends.

CASE LONG DRAWN OUT.

Decatur, Ind., June 26.—Judge Stine is still hearing evidence in the impeachment proceedings against County Superintendent Opliger and indications are that the trial will not close for several days yet. Although three days have been devoted to the hearing, the state is not yet through with its evidence and has several more witnesses to examine. Today several school teachers and a number of Opliger's neighbors were called to testify. The teachers as to his request for a certificate of efficiency and good moral character, and the neighbors as to his conduct while the Opliger family resided in their vicinity.

CONTRACTS FOR MANY BRIDGES.

Albion, June 26.—The board of county commissioners in special session has let contracts for the construction of eleven bridges in the county aggregating a cost of $6,548.20. The bridges are to be located in all parts of the county and when completed will be a direct benefit to many. All of the structures are to be completed on or before October 1. Many bids were received for the construction of the bridges, the competition being very keen.

TOWN "GOES TO THE TRAIN."

Huntington, Ind., June 26.—To preserve order in the confusion of loading and unloading passengers from Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana traction cars in the city, a policeman now meets every traction car stopping in front of the depot. Considerable trouble has developed lately in front of the depot in the crowds attendant to the entry of a car, and to prevent any serious trouble Chief of Police Baker issued an order that an officer must be present whenever a car stops at the depot.

FIND PLAGUE AMONG BEES.

Van Wert, Ohio, June 26.—A representative of the apiculture department of the state board of agriculture at Columbus has been in the city inspecting the apiaries of the city, several of which were found to be infected with American "foul brood." This disease is a peculiar one, in that it affects the larvae of the bee and kills it. As a result the swarms dwindle and in time is completely wiped out.

WHEAT HARVEST BEGINS.

Huntington, Ind., June 26.—Harvesting has started in earnest in Huntington county, and by the last of the week wheat cutting will be on in full blast. John Rupert, living northwest of Roanoke, has finished cutting a large field of wheat. He said the recent storm had done no damage to his crops and that the heads were unusually well filled.

VAN WERT MAN ADVANCES.

Van Wert, Ohio, June 26.—Dr. William A. Pearson, a young man now making his home in Philadelphia, and who was born, raised and received his education in this city, has advanced another step in his profession, having been elected dean of the Hahnemann Medical college at Philadelphia.

MARKLE WOMAN TRIES TO DIE.

Markle, Ind., June 26.—Mrs. Ed Ferguson attempted suicide here by taking paris green. A physician was summoned at once and the poison was pumped from the woman's stomach, and at last reports it was believed that she

TO IMPROVE EXPRESSION AS WELL AS COMPLEXION.

No face is really beautiful that lacks expression. Do you realize that continuous use of powders and creams tends to spoil pliancy of skin and elasticity of expression? Why not quit cosmetics, use something better, which won't clog the pores or make the skin dry, pasty or oily? Ordinary mercurial wax acts quite differently from any cosmetic. It wonderfully improves any complexion, giving it life and expression. By gradually, harmlessly peeling off the thin veil of surface skin, it brings to view a pure, soft, spotless complexion, delicately beautiful and youthful. Every druggist has this wax; it is seldom more than an ounce is needed. It is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. In a week or two the transformation is complete. Wrinkles do not of course enhance the expression. Neither do the puffy things many use to eradicate them. Treatment of free from all objection is made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salicylic acid in 1 pint witch hazel, use as a wash lotion. This soon removes even the most obstinate wrinkles.

Pennsylvania Road Preparing for a Rush of Business.

Logansport, Ind., July 26.—In anticipation of the rush of business from the farms, the Pennsylvania railroad here has put a large force of men to work in the shops repairing and getting into shape every available freight car for the handling of grain.

The shops have been on a thirty-five-hour weekly schedule for some time, but now the car and repair departments are on a fifty-five hour schedule.

The Vandalia here has also put back furloughed men.

MAY CLOSE 100 SALOONS.

Evansville Saloon Men Plan Elimination by Consolidation.

Evansville, Ind., June 26.—Elimination of one hundred saloons in Evansville by merging bars operating in the same block, is proposed by the law enforcement committee of the Saloon Men's Business association, composed of Clifford T. Curry, Charles Sherwood and William Matthews.

Such a consolidation would curtail the license fund $80,000 annually and throw one hundred bartenders out of work.

The plan includes the consolidation of the two nearest saloons, occupation of the most advantageous building with each of the consolidators sharing the business as equal partners.

According to the committee there are many saloons losing money or just "breaking even," and the proposed move would be a great help. It is said the plan will be opposed by the two local breweries.

Gen. Funstons Great Story, "Memories of Two Wars"

Funston Captures Filipino Secrets

(Editor's Note.—The capture of Hilario Tal Placido, Gen. Garcia's adjutant, who later was one of Funston's chief aides on the Aguinaldo expedition, was the man who accomplished the direct capture of the great Filipino leader by pinning his arms behind him in his headquarters until his guard was subdued.

CHAPTER XXIII

By GEN. FREDERICK FUNSTON.
Brigadier General, United States Army.

The next day Kochler and I were waiting for our meal to be brought to us, when the former snuffed the air and said:

"I smell chicken cooking. I'll bet it's that little cuss Albright."

The unfortunate Albright was sent for, and approached looking exactly like a boy who has been caught with an arm up to the elbow in one of his mother's jars of peach preserves.

"Yes, captain."

Then a long and judicial silence, ending in an order for the recently deceased bird to be brought up for inspection, in order, I suppose, to establish a corpus delicti, as the lawyers would say. The steaming fowl was placed on the ground before us; then another judicial silence, followed by the dictum:

"You know the orders about looting. You are fined one boiled chicken."

The enterprising soldier walked away, glad to have got off so easily, but in the meantime the fragrance had smitten our nostrils and we could feel our rectitude fairly oozing out of us.

Kochler broke the painful silence by saying, "It would be a positive sin to leave that for the ants to eat, and it won't do to let the man who stole it have it. We must do our duty," and we did, but I could not help feeling a bit sneaking as I got away with my part.

Seven years later I was the guest of Maj. H. C. Benson, Fourteenth cavalry, then superintendent of the Yosemite National park, on a fishing trip, and recognized among the soldiers on duty with the small pack train we had with us the same man who on the occasion described had so inadvertently contributed to my lunch. I said:

"Hello, Albright; is there anything doing here in the chicken line?"

He grinned sheepishly and said it was a poor country for chickens.

With us now, in spite of mud and rain, the war went merrily on. It was a sort of process of accretion by which we hoped in time to wear the insurgent hands down to nothing. Our losses were not great, and every rifle captured from the enemy lessened his power just so much, for while men could be gathered up from the fields and forced to fight, the weapons lost to us could not be replaced.

On August 1, Lieut. F. W. Alstaetter, corps of engineers, while making an examination of the road between San Miguel and San Isidro, was overwhelmed by Lacuna. Alstaetter had three enlisted men of his own corps and an escort of eleven men of the Fourth cav-

Within a couple of weeks the enlisted men were released, but he still held the officer. It was only a short time, however, until the opportunity presented itself to bring about his release.

A concerted movement of the garrison of half a dozen towns was made with the object of clearing of insurgents the flat country between the mountains and the Candaba swamp. The operation was greatly interfered with by bottomless mud and swollen rivers, but some good little fights were had, nevertheless. In one of these Lieut. Col. Manuel Ventus, one of Lacuna's subordinates, was wounded and captured, being placed in our hospital for treatment. As soon as he was near recovery I wrote Lacuna, stating that while I could not arrange an exchange of prisoners with him, I promised to release Ventus if he would do the same with Alstaetter. A few days later the latter was escorted to our outposts by a couple of insurgents, and Ventus was released at the same time, but was allowed to remain in the hospital until his recovery.

For months we had known of the presence with the insurgents of this region of an American negro named Fagan, a deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry. This wretched man was serving as an officer and had on two occasions written me impudent and badly spelled letters. It was mighty well understood that if taken alive by any of us he was to stretch a picket rope as soon as one could be obtained.

Fagan was prominent in the fight in which the detachment above referred to Alstaetter's West Point class ring, declining to give it up on the eve of the latter's release. In the course of time we got not only the ring, but Fagan's head in a sugar sack.

On October 13 I went out on a short raid with the scouts under Day, and troop A, under Lieutenant Morrison, Major W. C. Brown going along for the excitement, Mitchell because he was my aide, and Dr. Pease in order to mend our hurts.

We had a brisk little fight with an equal force of the enemy, driving them with some loss, and having Private Robinson, of the scouts, wounded.

Ten days later I started out just after dark with the same two organizations. We plodded along through the sodden fields, keeping off all trails and roads, and just after daybreak were about fifteen miles southeast of San Isidro, when the man on point reported that we were approaching a small group of houses. These little isolated hamlets were always apt to yield something during the rainy season, when the insurgents, like ourselves, were not averse to sleeping under cover.

We trotted quietly into this one, when Cantaborn, of the scouts, who was in the lead, was fired at from the window of a small nipa shack at a distance of not more than six feet, but was not hit. Cantaborn had his revolver in hand, and returned the fire, hitting in the neck the man who had shot at him, killing him almost instantly.

In an instant men began to run from the houses, some of them stopping to fire, but the most of them thinking only of gaining the brush. One man, who from his appearance we knew to be an officer, dashed down the bank of a ravine and through water up to his waist, while Cantaborn and I emptied our revolvers at him. The former then plunged his horse over the bank of the ravine, fully fifteen feet, but I had not the nerve to do it.

The fleeing man was none other than the long-sought Lacuna himself, and months later he told me that it was the closest call he ever had. Once into the jungle, he was safe, and escaped. He had been spending the night here, accompanied by a small escort.

In the house that he had fled from we captured much of his correspondence, and most important of all, the stamped paper on which were afterward written the bogus letters over Lacuna's signature that were to be the undoing of the famous Aguinaldo, the king bee of them all. In this affair we suffered no loss, but killed two men and took five prisoners, three of them wounded, and also captured six rifles, some ammunition and four ponies, with their equipment. New Home Treatment for All Hairy Growth (Modes of Today.) With a plain delatone paste, it is now an easy matter for any woman to keep her face, neck and arms free from hairy or fuzzy growths. Just enough paste is made with powdered delatone and water to cover the hairy surface. This is applied and in 2 or 3 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. After this treatment every sign of hair has vanished, and the skin is free from spot or blemish. Be very careful to see that you get genuine delatone.

INCREASING

Demand for Grain Cars the Cause of Greater Activity at Shops.

The Pennsylvania is increasing its forces at the east car shops and is also working the men full time—fifty-nine hours per week. A number of men were added to the rolls yesterday and more first-class car repairmen are still needed and will be employed as rapidly as they apply until the ranks are filled. The rush is chiefly in putting grain cars in serviceable condition to handle the western wheat crops, which will be moving in another week. Other departments—the locomotive repair shops—are still working on a thirty-two hour weekly schedule, but may increase the hours in July.

WAS BEST IN HISTORY.

Tournament of Firemen at Bluffton Great Success.

"The best in the history of the association," is the way Fred G. Duryee, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, expressed his opinion of the tournament at Bluffton of the Northeastern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association, which took place yesterday. "The contests passed off in the most orderly manner and without a hitch or visible displeasure," he said. "The board included Mr. Richmond, secretary of the state fire marshal, of Indianapolis; Mr. Stone, of the Underwriters' bureau; Mr. Seibert, of Elkhart; and Messrs. Doe, Fisher and Bronckfeld, of Wapakoneta, Ind., the last four named being members of the Northeast Ohio Volunteer Firemen's association."

The chief prize—the hose-laying contest—was won by the Fort Wayne Electric works firemen. This company ran 300 feet, laid 200 feet of hose, broke the coupling and placed the nozzle in the unprecedented time of thirty-one seconds. The General Electric Lamp works' company was awarded second prize, making the run in thirty-five seconds. Accidents disqualified Union City and Berne companies, who were also participants in this contest.

The water battle was a most exciting scene, lasting five minutes, and developed some remarkable courage and nerve in some of the participants. This prize was awarded to Montpelier, against Union City, the only other participant. The General Electric Lamp company's firemen won the prize for being the best drilled team at the tournament. They did exceptionally well and received praises from all quarters.

An attractive feature of the parade and elsewhere was the electric auto chemical machine—designed and built at the Fort Wayne Electric works—which appeared in public for the first time at the Bluffton tournament.

There were twenty-eight companies at the tournament and twenty-two of them, as well as ten bands, appeared in the parade. The latter was declared the best seen at any of the tournaments, owing in part to the fact that every company had new uniforms.

The association had no part in the beer incident mentioned in the papers Thursday. None of the companies approved the scheme of bringing beer to Bluffton and but few of the firemen knew it was there. The only part they took in the matter was to banish from the parade some men carrying banners bearing the legend, "They stole our beer."

HIGH TRIBUTE TO WILSON.

Carnegie Praises Him for Action on Tolls Repeal Clause.

London, June 23.—High tribute to President Wilson by Andrew Carnegie and Baron Shaw, of Dunfermline, for his action in bringing about the repeal of the clause in the Panama canal tolls bill exempting American coastwise shipping from the payments of tolls. The speeches were delivered at a dinner held at the National Liberal Club in celebration of the centenary of peace between the English-speaking nations.

Mr. Carnegie was the guest of honor at the dinner and in addition to his remarks on the Panama canal tolls bill expressed the hope that he would live to see President Wilson lay the foundations for universal peace.

Baron Shaw advocated raising $100,000 to found a British American chair of history in some great British center of learning and suggested the appointment of some man like Viscount Bryce as lecturer.

The last stronghold of Huerta's army outside the capital is now in the hands of the rebels, and the march on Mexico City of Villa's men threatens to wreck the plans agreed upon by the mediators and plunge Mexico into greater chaos. Zacatecas was the last big town in the way of the rebels, and when Villa led his 26,000 men against it he won the day only after great losses. But the victory makes the rebel general master of the situation in Mexico, and it seems that his threat to string up Huerta to the nearest tree is near execution.

TRAIL IN SNOW TOLD CRIME STORY

Old DeKalb County Case is Up for Hearing Before Pardon Board.

Indianapolis, June 26.—How a trail in the snow told the mute story of a crime in DeKalb county, for which Levi Kessler has served a prison sentence since February, 1896, was told to the state board of pardons by Robert W. McBride, trial judge in the case. Kessler, a section laborer, was convicted of killing his foreman, a man named Harner.

After Harner's body was found in the snow near New Era, Ind., it was remembered that he and Kessler had started out together the night before. Tracks were found in the snow where the two men had walked together, then one pair of tracks stopped and one went on to the New Era station, the former judge said it was testified. Later Kessler boarded a train and fled, only to be captured later.

At the trial Kessler, on whose person Harner's watch was found, said he had purchased the watch, an argument followed and that he shot Harner, when the latter attacked him.

Kessler was found guilty by a jury and mobs formed to lynch him. Mr. McBride said, but that he leaped into a carriage and hurried the prisoner away. The board took the case under advisement.

The board also considered the case of Frank L. Brown, sentenced from Miami county in 1912 for assault and battery with intent to murder his wife and expected to complete its June hearing late today.

He has spent twelve years in the Philippines and ten at Cebu. Since arriving in Los Angeles, he received a cablegram announcing his reappointment to the bench in Cebu.

HUSBAND SPURNS HIS UNBORN HEIR

Mrs. Pauline Ulrich Files Sensational Divorce Complaint.

Charging that her husband, Arthur J. Ulrich, detests the notion of being a father, does not want children and has tried to drive her to get a divorce ever since he learned that she would become a mother, Mrs. Pauline Jane Ulrich has filed suit in the superior court for a decree of complete separation. Her husband, she says, has informed her that he does not want children and will not give a thing to the support of them. He deserted her June 24, it is charged. Besides this she says he is a habitual drunkard and has often struck and bruised her and threatened her with bodily injury. Mrs. Ulrich asks that the suit be postponed until after the birth of the child and that she then be given custody of it. Alimony in the sum of $1,000 is demanded. An order to restrain the Fort Wayne rolling mills from paying Ulrich his wages has been issued. The couple were married in October, 1912.

McCoy has sued the Brown Trucking company for $5,000 damages for the death of his two-and-one-half-year-old daughter, Muriel McCoy, who was run over in Columbia street a few weeks ago and injured so badly that she died a few minutes later at St. Joseph hospital. It is charged in the complaint that the defendant placed one of its large trucks in the hands of Ernest Bolman, who is alleged to have been a young and incompetent driver, and by his carelessness to have run down and killed the child.

Wife Charges Desertion.
In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court Nettie Spangler charges that her husband, Frank Spangler, more than two years ago deserted her and has not since contributed anything to her support. They were married in 1910. The defendant is a non-resident of the state of Indiana. Mrs. Spangler asks that her maiden name be restored.

In the circuit court Louise Burlage was granted a divorce from George J. Burlage, given the custody of two small children and provided with an allowance of $15 per month to be paid by the defendant for the support of the children.

The April term of the circuit court will adjourn Saturday and the court will enter upon the summer vacation, which will continue until the September term begins. It is expected that Prosecutor Harry H. Hilgeman will arraign several persons charged with crime Saturday to get the cases disposed of before the long adjournment.

OWNER HELPS TO WIN THE SECOND

Sat in One Place While His Athletes Walloped Leaders.

Owner Claude H. Varnell did not have on a uniform in the second game of the Dayton series played at his barracks Thursday, but he worked harder than any one of his white-clad warriors, and attributes the fact that his faithful employees pulled through with a 2 to 2 victory to strict adherence to the laws of the game he was still there. Among other beliefs entertained by the man who signs the Billiken pay checks is one that it is unkind to move from his seat while the home team is in the lead.

When it is behind it is lucky to keep moving and at times when the Fort Wayne club had uphill battles on its hands the owner has walked miles trying to break the jinx. It is hard work to sit still in an endeavor of the sort that the Vets and Billikens pulled at the back in the second round of the series and for this reason Mr. Varnell feels that he contributed much of the labor that went toward humbling the visiting Yets.

No game out on at the local enclosure this season has been as full of thrills and high class baseball and it was marred only by the fact that Tommy Atkins was not able to stick after he had safely guided his crew through some mighty turbulent water.

In the first place "Red" Smith cut down a runner at the plate in the sixth and gave the Vets a setback that prevented them from crowding the home troupe. He made the second out in the inning and eliminated the necessity of pulling the infield in with two men on bases, which was lucky, as Pete Fahrner's grounder would probably have gone for a hit instead of giving Frankie Nespo a chance to romp over and make one of the most sensational stops and throws of the whole encounter.

With two men on in the third and two down, Atkins DeHaven sent a thrill through excited fandom by climbing the bank in right field and picking off a drive for Harry Martin that would have gone for a double with a less experienced fielder after it.

Frederick Bramble added one run to the local collection in the fourth when he landed the ball over in the Kennedy carnival for a circuit blow and Atkins contributed largely toward the victory before he was finally eliminated by starting the rally in the third with a drive that eventually gave him a marker.

Atkins' best performance, or rather he showed to better advantage in the sixth than at any other time. Nespo put him in the hole on a fumble of Meister's grounder and Martin and Sykes cut in with short singles, filling the bases. With none gone, Charrity lifted the ball to center and Smith got it and threw to the plate on a dead line and caught Meister before he had a chance to lift the ground. Real trouble was encountered in the seventh and resulted in the holding of the portable division of the Fort Wayne hurling staff. DeHaven drew a pass and went to third on Atkins' double, Charrity and transportation and Spencer pitched a fly to left that enabled DeHaven to count. Atkins was checked at the plate on Meister's grounder, Sykes was passed and Martin grounded to McLafferty and was outed at first.

Charrity opened the ninth with a hit and Spencer pitched to short but Meister hit and there were two on with one gone. Sykes batted the ball at Jake Holderman and was retired and Nespo sent the game into history by throwing Fahrner out at first.

Atkinsworth had to go in without being properly warmed up and he passed the first man and had to struggle hard to pull through. Young was sent to warm up in the ninth but was not needed.

Five Major League Teams Are Playing New Plays and Are Making Them Win

SOME OF THE MEN WHO ARE SHOWING A LITTLE ORIGINALITY IN EXECUTING NEW PLAYS.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

There are five teams in the major leagues that are pulling new stuff, new plays, unexpected plays, and getting away with them. In fact, there is more real baseball genius and brainwork being shown this season than we have seen for a long time.

It may surprise you to hear what teams they are. They are the Philadelphia Athletics, the St. Louis Browns, the Cincinnati Reds, the Boston Braves and the Baltimore Orioles. Most of the other teams are playing the old style, cut and dried, routine game, and one who follows the game closely can come near guessing every play they will attempt.

One of the prettiest plays evolved by the Athletics this year is the squeeze with runners on second and third, with both runners attempting to score. In one game at Chicago both scored. The play is a variation of Mike Kelly's famous play of olden times, when he used to score from second behind the man who was thrown out at the plate.

The Athletics have worked this play three times. With runners on second and third, the latter pushes a bent down the line, if possible, with both runners advancing at top speed when the ball is pitched. The runner from second naturally has a great head, and turns third, smiling on the man ahead. If the ball is fielded to the plate, there is a chance to catch the first runner, but while the catcher is facing him the one behind slides safe on the other side of the plate. If the opposing infielders are caught asleep or hesitate as to which shall field the ball, both runners will score, as they did in Chicago.

knows that not one pitcher in ten knows whether to let the ball go on to the plate to try to catch the runner or to catch the ball and shoot back to second to catch the batter who will attempt to take an extra base on the throw home. Therefore, he makes all his pitchers go back of the catcher when a hit is made, and Hoblitzell comes to the middle of the diamond and handles all balls or decides to let them go. Maravich and Evers are playing a lot of new stuff around second. The chief improvement is in Maravich's change of and taking indefinitely less risk of causing style of passing balls in force-outs and in a muff.

Whitley County News.

Columbus City, Ind., June 26.—The seventeenth family reunion of the Garrison family was held Tuesday on the lawn of the county jail, Sheriff Marion Egolf being the host. Two hundred were present to partake of the grand dinner and enjoy the afternoon program, which consisted of speeches by Ruckman Garrison, of Fort Wayne, and Rev. L. A. Luckenbill. The Collins band played music during the day. Those present from out of the county were Norman Garrison and family, Maude Bennett and Rhoda Garrison and Charles Jackson, all of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Garrison, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Er Garrison, of Hudson, Mich.; and Mrs. Arthur Allen and family, of Columbus.

The past chancellors of the K. of D. lodge of the state were royally entertained Wednesday evening at the lodge rooms, 600 pounds of dressed turtle and fish being served up and several boxes of cigars being consumed. Those present among the visitors were Harry Wade, of Indianapolis, grand keeper of the records and seals; Reader Smith, of Fort Wayne; Dr. H. C. Huss, Albert Shearer and Messrs. Spaulding and Rankin, of Peru; A. B. Talmage, Dr. L. W. Smith, Dr. M. A. Payne and wife, F. A. Payne and wife, Frank Covey and wife and Guy Baker, of Wabash. You only know that you are quite cool, and that everything tastes fine.

It is economy in summer to do that which will bring any relief from intense suffering induced by extreme heat. A cent an hour is a trifling "tip" to give this meal-time servant.

URGES ANTIDOTE AS LIFE SAVER

Would Put Tartar Emetic in Poison to Lower Suicides.

New York, June 24.—Dr. William Edward Fitch, editor of Pediatrics is sponsor for the new idea, by which it is contended that the combining of a tartar emetic with the poison tablets when they are sold to the laity will deter persons from taking the tablets and also cause those who take them by accident to vomit and thus save their lives. Dr. Fitch declares that the increase in the use of mercury bichloride as a disinfectant probably accounts for the recent increase in the number of self-inflicted deaths and others which the poison has caused.

"To my mind there is only one safe and legitimate way to market bichloride of mercury tablets without putting a hardship on laymen or druggists," writes Dr. Fitch. "I was a member of the commission from New York City that appeared before the Codes Committee at Albany when the bichloride of mercury bill was before the Senate. Easy Solution of Problem.

"I stated then that any legislation which would compel a poor woman who needed bichloride of mercury to pay a physician $1 or $2 for a prescription, would be a distinct hardship. Since that time I have investigated the question from many viewpoints, and as a result of much study I have arrived at what to my mind is a practical, simple and easy solution of the question. As a result of my investigations and research I propose: First—Limit the sale of the poison in its present form only to physicians for their personal use and to hospitals for institutional purposes. Second—When sold to the laity bichloride of mercury should be put up in tablet form of seven and three tenths grains of bichloride of mercury, ammonium chloride, seven and seven-tenths grains, and one and one-quarter grains of antimony at potent tartar emetic will promptly exert its full emetic action on reaching the stomach before the corrosive sublimate can begin to exert its violent, irritant and deeply caustic action.

No Drawback to the Idea.

"This combination will in no wise hinder the bactericidal, germicidal, disinfectant or antiseptic action of the bichloride of mercury, but on the other hand the tartar emetic will have a synergistic action.

"The physiological action of the tartar emetic produces prolonged nausea, violent and repeated vomiting and retching, complete evacuation of the stomach contents, with the result of saving human life.

"At the present time there is insufficient legislation to reasonably safeguard the public in connection with the sale of corrosive sublimate—bichloride of mercury. No less than thirty-eight states have enactments purporting to regulate the sale of poison, none of which fills the bill. Several bills have been introduced in Congress and in various State legislatures and the subject has been considered by many boards of health, but as yet no positive safeguard has been offered the public."

Dr. Fitch invites the co-operation of physicians, publishers, philanthropists, federal and State officials and the public to assist in procuring the necessary legislation which will place the selling of poison tablets on a basis that will positively safeguard the public.
